CALGARY (CP)—External Affairs Minister Howard Green said in an interview here that Canada is no longer trying to act as intermediary between the United States and Great Britain.

He said, "Canadians are no longer the honest brokers primarily interested in helping the British to understand the American and vice-versa. America and Britain are just about as close as two people could be."

Atom-Free Zone Asked By Peking

PEKING (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said tonight China would like to conclude a peace pact which would include the United States, setting up a zone free of nuclear weapons in Asia and the western Pacific.

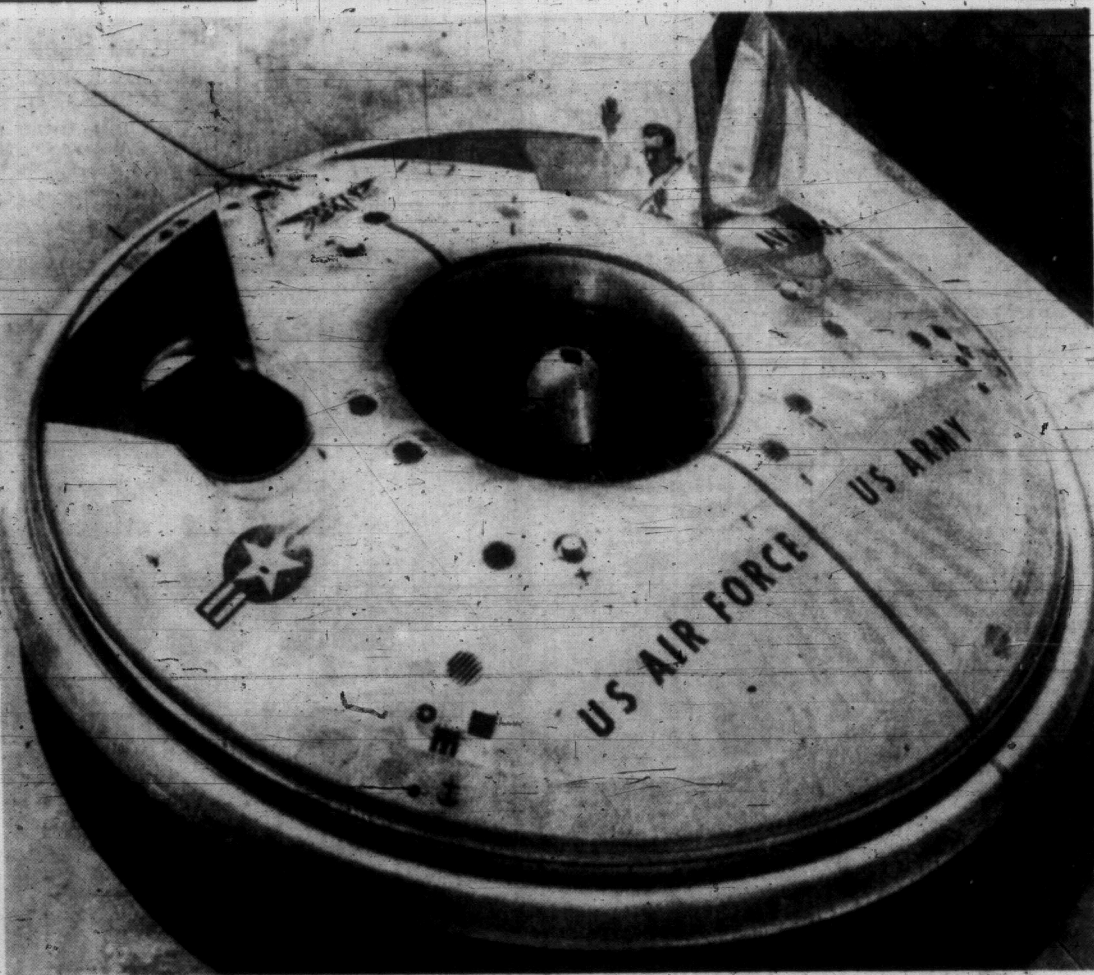

Chou made his offer in an off-the-cuff speech at a Swiss embassy garden party. Diplomats considered his statement one of the mildest heard from a Chinese leader in years.

Chou said that "today there are in the world military blocs such as SEATO which are hostile to China and are trying to encircle our country and pose a threat to it. But we stand for peaceful co-existence."

He said the peaceful co-existence and good relations between China and Switzerland were "a good example to all the world."

"We have proposed the conclusion of a peace pact for a non-nuclear zone in Asia and the western Pacific. This, of course, would include the United States," he declared.

Chou added that "some provocateurs have accused China of having given up its policy of seeking peaceful relations with countries with different social systems. These are slanders and not at all correct."

Lightning Touches Off New B.C. Forest Fires

KAMLOOPS (CP)—More than 20 major forest fires were still blazing today in British Columbia despite an overnight storm which proved only a mixed blessing.

STORM LEAVES DEVASTATION IN FORMOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Violent downpours in the wake of typhoon Shirley flooded Formosa today and confronted this island with the danger of a major disaster.

At least six persons were killed and 120 injured in the typhoon that struck Sunday.

Dispatches from points outside Taipei reported that 23 inches of rain fell in the Yunlin district of central Formosa in a period of three hours.

The Taan River overflowed and marooned 30,000 inhabitants of the town of Wanlin in northwest Formosa.

The storm killed two persons, destroyed 30 homes and caused heavy crop damage on the Ryukyu Islands of Yonaguni south of Japan. It was headed today for the Communist Chinese mainland.

Early reports from ranger stations in the southern interior of B.C. showed 23 new fires touched off by lightning during the night.

The storm did bring some relief, however, as it carried rain and cooler weather across some of the province's hot spots.

The rain contained a huge blaze at Lac Le Jeune, 30 miles south of here, long enough bulldozers to ram through a new fire break and give the summer resort a last-minute reprieve.

The 40-year-old Lac Le Jeune lodge was evacuated three days ago by 50 vacationing trout fishermen, after being given up for loss by its owners and foresters.

Up to 400 men and 36 bulldozers on the scene had thrown up fire breaks on both sides of the blaze and were working today at preventing a further spread of the flames. Special high-powered pumps poured tons of water on the lodge and its cabins.

Foresters fear "sleepers" started by lightning strikes may send the toll searing later this week unless there is more rain.

LIGHTNING STARTED IT
It was an electrical storm three weeks ago which started the present Kamloops district fire crisis.

Lightning strikes were reported in the Blue River area, 100 miles north of here, where a 10,000-acre Alan Creek fire is presenting a growing problem to fire fighters. Severe strikes also occurred at Barriere, 30 miles north of here, and at Keremeos, 100 miles south.

Two Banks Held Up
MONTREAL (CP)—Holdup men escaped with a total of $11,000 today from two banks in widely separated parts of the city.

In a letter to commission members Friday, Padilla Nervo suggested that the commission be convened Aug. 15.

The general assembly meets Sept. 20, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev has already said he would press for a full discussion of disarmament then.

President Eisenhower announced last month that he would seek an early meeting of the UN disarmament commission following the Communist walkout from the 10-nation disarmament talks in Geneva.

CAMPERS, SMOKERS BLAMED

Careless smokers and illegal fire-builders today are blamed for 19 out of 21 new forest fires reported in the coastal mainland and Vancouver forest district over the weekend.

He said that unless order is re-established in the Congo events there might "expand."

He hailed formation of the UN Congo force as a "great step forward" toward establishment of an international force for peace. In all history there had never been a force like the one now being mobilized.

Two Caribou planes, an aircraft capable of taking off and landing on short distances — would be acquired now to lift supplies to Canadian forces within the Congo. A third Caribou would be acquired in September and a fourth in October.

The resolution won the immediate support of Opposition Leader Pearson who said Canadian forces will form the backbone of the UN operation because of the technical nature of their contribution.

The camp fire ban covers the east side and all of the southern tip, he said. Fires are allowed only in the north-west area around Tofino and Ucluelet.

A damaged B-17 four-motored water bomber which made a wheels-up landing in Kamloops, then was flown here for repairs to wings, fuselage, and water tank doors, took off from Patricia Bay for the interior fire lines at 6 a.m. today.

The $5,000 repair job was done by Fairley Aviation Co. Kenneth Hibbert, acting manager, said six-man crews kept work on the plane going round the clock, and finished Sunday at midnight.

The plane arrived at the Victoria airport Friday. It was damaged while working on forest fires in the Kamloops area. Owner is an American firm.

PAIR HUNTED BY FBI
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI is searching for two missing employees of the super-secret National Security Agency, the defence department disclosed today.

The two men, who had access to secret information, have been missing since they ostensibly departed together on a vacation June 24.

The department identified them as Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, Laurel, Md., and William H. Martin, 29.

Martin recently had returned to the security agency at Fort Meade, Md., from a year's study in advanced mathematics at the University of Illinois.

The defence department never has specified what the duties of the National Security Agency may be, simply saying that it "performs highly specialized technical and co-ordinating functions relating to the national security." It was established by President Truman in 1952.

Neither is married.

Commons Gives Approval

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has authorized dispatch of up to 500 Canadian soldiers to the Congo for United Nations duty, Prime Minister Diefenbaker informed the Commons today.

In addition, the Canadian government will provide eight aircraft for transport duties in the Congo—four North Stars already there and four Caribous to be obtained from de Havilland Aircraft Limited of Downsview, Ont.

The 500 Canadian soldiers will be signallers and supply personnel, the prime minister said in introducing a resolution asking parliamentary approval for sending a Canadian force to the Congo. The Commons gave unanimous approval after a three-hour debate.

An advance party of six officers left Montreal for the Congo Saturday and the main body is expected to begin leaving in about eight to 10 days.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM
The prime minister disclosed that Premier Lumumba of the Congo on Saturday told him that he would like Canada to participate in an investment program for the Congo.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he told Mr. Lumumba that he didn't expect this hope would be attained because Canada itself needed capital.

The prime minister accused Russia of "continuance of a belligerent and blatant attitude" in recent weeks in regard to the Congo.

He said it was interesting to note that Mr. Lumumba had refused to meet the Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington but had met Russian Ambassador Amassap Aroutunian here Saturday.

In his hour-long conference with Mr. Diefenbaker Saturday, Mr. Lumumba said he hoped Canada would provide French-speaking technicians for the Congolese administration.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government will communicate with the universities, professional groups and the National Research Council to make known the needs of the Congo.

He said that unless order is re-established in the Congo events there might "expand."

He hailed formation of the UN Congo force as a "great step forward" toward establishment of an international force for peace. In all history there had never been a force like the one now being mobilized.

OVER CONGO

Dag Rapped By Russians

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Moscow Radio accused United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today of supporting aggression in the Congo. Sunday Moscow accused Belgium of further aggression.

The charge against Belgium brought a strong reply today from the United States which accused Russia of hindering UN efforts by threatening to take "decisive measures" against what Moscow called continuing aggression.

"The Soviet leaders must be aware that this kind of public statement can only add to the problems of those who are seriously trying to restore peace and order in the Congo," a U.S. state department statement said.

While the state department was castigating Moscow, Russia was attacking Hammarskjold.

"The aggressors are becoming more brazen," Moscow said. "This is understandable since behind them are not only the NATO-colonial powers. The UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, staying now in Leopoldville, is supporting them by his more than conciliatory position."

"It is becoming increasingly evident that his activities cannot promote the implementation of the Security Council's decision on the early withdrawal of the Belgian troops."

'A Shield to Cover Aggression'
Moscow said the UN emergency force in the Congo is "playing the role of a shield to cover the military aggression" there.

The U.S. statement issued by state department spokesman Lincoln White said "the Soviet Union apparently arrogates to itself the right to judge whether the UN is acting with sufficient speed in the extremely difficult situation in the Congo."

Hammarskjold himself was having difficulties on two fronts. An outbreak of tribal warfare threatened to involve UN troops while a new crisis was arising over secession-minded Katanga Province. The two moves forced him to postpone his departure for South Africa by 24 hours.

The new fighting was reported from Lulua and Baluba tribes were said to have reopened an ancient feud with heavy casualties. Tunisian troops are in the area to restore order; Belgian paratroopers landed there last week to aid menaced Europeans.

The Katanga government sent emissaries to Belgium to plead for independence and was sending another delegation to the United Nations for the same reason.

The Pentagon said in an answer to inquiries that it reported the two men missing over the past weekend after its own search had been fruitless. Maryland police and the FBI were both alerted.

Mitchell and Martin, both mathematicians in the $8,000-a-year income bracket, served in the navy from 1951 to 1954. Both were employed by the security agency on the same day, July 8, 1957.

Neither is married.

B.C. BRIEF 'PALLID' ON MUNICIPAL WOES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury Sunday challenged Premier Bennett to call a public provincial-municipal conference to discuss tax-sharing in B.C.

The mayor said he got the idea while sitting in as an observer at the recent federal-provincial conference at Ottawa.

He said Premier Bennett's brief to the federal government was a one-page recital of a few municipal conditions and was pallid compared with those from other provinces, said the mayor.

Premier Bennett had urged the Ottawa talks be held in public but the proposal was defeated.

"If Bennett is right that municipalities are getting a good deal then he should be ready to discuss it at a conference and substantiate it," said Mayor Alsbury.

BRISBANE, Australia—The Anglican Dean of Brisbane, Very Rev. W. P. Baddeley, has upset some fellow churchmen here by visiting a race track where he backed with small bets the six winning horses in seven races.

The 44-year-old dean, who attended the weekend races with binoculars, camera and racebook, and smoking a cigar, said: "It was the most wonderful relaxation—I love horses."

Rev. Alan Walker, superintendent of Central Methodist Mission in Sydney, commented: "The advocacy of the dean of gambling in Australia is a disgrace to the church."

Rev. B. G. Judd, a member of the New South Wales branch of the World Council of Churches, said: "If Dean Baddeley thinks that is the way to get people into the kingdom of God, he is entitled to his opinion."

Dean Baddeley, married with one child, came to Brisbane from England nearly two years ago. He has since won a reputation as a popular but unorthodox churchman.

They were even more horrified when a sleepy voice came from inside the coffin: "has it stopped raining yet?" Panicked, they threw themselves from the speeding truck. One died and the other was seriously injured.

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported the incident from the Portuguese enclave of Goa in India.

The sleepy voice had come from a man accompanying the coffin to the village of Ponda. He climbed inside to shelter from heavy rain and fell asleep.

Brandstetter, 2741 Dalhousie, at 4:40 p.m.

Prayers for more rain and for the safety of the firefighters were offered Sunday at Kamloops churches.

In the adjoining Nelson district 123 fires are known to be burning and reconnaissance planes today were surveying effects of the thundershowers. Lightning strikes were reported in many areas.

Fred Makiev, 22, and a 16-year-old juvenile were due in court today to answer arson charges laid in connection with a blaze which firefighters have brought under control near China Creek, five miles north of Trail. They were charged by RCMP Saturday.

COULD GET 14 YEARS

The section under which the two are charged carries a maximum jail sentence of 14 years.

First heavy outbreak of fires was reported during the weekend from the Prince George forest district, largest in the province. Nine outbreaks were reported in the district, bringing the number of fires burning to 27. All are under control.

More than $1,718,000 has been spent in firefighting in the province so far this year compared with $309,000 at the same time last year, and $1,726,000 at the same time in the record fire year of 1958.

'The Most Charming of Women'

LONDON (AP) — The Queen Mother may become eligible this week for a pension equivalent to about $7 a week.

If she does, almost no one will know for sure. And she probably never will collect it.

On Thursday the mother of the Queen will be 60. At that age a British woman can collect an old age pension—usually £2 10s (about $7)—if her husband made his regular, compulsory contributions to the government health, insurance and pension plan.

But probably only a few officials and members of the Royal Family know if the late King George VI contributed. By law the sovereign is exempt from many taxes that plague ordinary mortals—income tax, customs and death duties, for example. And royal wills, inheritances, property sales, bank balances and the like are secret.

WOULD JOKE ABOUT IT

If anyone raised the question of the pension with the Queen Mother, she would probably treat it as a joke.

Light-hearted, considerate, possessed of a quick sense of humor, she is the most charming of women, the sort of person that walks into a crowded room and speaks first to the shy guests along the walls.

At a gathering at Balmoral Castle not long ago she turned to government officials and diplomats and said with her winning smile: "I know you'll excuse me for making my farewells in advance. You see me so often. I want to spend my last few minutes here with some of the local people."

... pension?

Once at a reception a bewildered photographer got caught up in a line of dignitaries being presented.

ONLY THE PRESS

With a sniff, an elderly courtier whispered: "He's only the press."

But the great charmer held out her hand to the cameraman and said:

"This gentleman's an old friend of mine. How are you?"

On another occasion at Windsor Castle, she made her ladies-in-waiting live up to their names.

"Do forgive me," she explained as she turned to them. "I saw the butcher boy out of the window. I've known him a long time and I wanted to have a little chat."

She will no doubt take to 60 with the same easy grace with which she reacted to being 50.

On that milestone, a well-known court photographer sent her a set of pictures he'd taken of her. They had been touched up.

The portraits were returned with thanks and a note that said: "Her Majesty feels that having weathered 50 years of life on earth, she would not like her photographers to suggest that she has come through completely unscathed."

GERALD HUDSON
... love, religion

Escaped Murderer Caught

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A small town merchant's interest in FBI "wanted circulars" led to the jailing of one of the country's 10 most wanted criminals, an escaped murderer who lived quietly as a farm laborer and father.

Smith Gerald Hudson, 32-year-old convicted Pennsylvania killer was brought to Omaha Sunday night, and lodged in jail to await arrival of Pennsylvania authorities.

Hudson was arrested Sunday in the small house he occupied on a farm near Cozard, Neb.

Hudson, who used an alias of Gerald Bennett, told of falling in love and taking religion "for the first time in my life."

Glendon Majken, operator of a chain store at Cozard, looked over some FBI circulars last week and spotted a picture that looked familiar. He thought it was Bennett, with whom he did business, and it was.

Hudson escaped from the Pennsylvania state penitentiary at Bellefonte Aug. 2, 1957, after he had served six years of a 10-to-20-year term for killing an acquaintance with a shotgun and had only four to go.

With Hudson's arrest ended a story that began in Nebraska over two years ago when he met the daughter of S. E. Wilker at the Maxwell Baptist Church. His wife now is expecting her second child.

Algeria Rebels Gun Down 11

ALGIERS (AP) — French army units today captured two members of a rebel band that machine-gunned a crowded bathing beach, killing 11 persons and wounding seven others.

The rebel attack brought enraged outcries from the French and accusations of cynical hypocrisy directed at the nationalist rebels, who only Sunday issued a communique saying the French were trying "to aggravate the way by all means."

The two rebels were captured by troops who fanned out immediately after the attack.

The dozen rebels swooped down in three groups Sunday from the bluff overlooking the Caroubier beach some 30 miles west of here. They advanced in the late afternoon under cover of a brush fire which raged on the hills above the beach.

One group opened fire on an auto on the coast road, killing a Moslem woman and a European couple and wounding two other occupants of the car.

Another of the rebel groups killed six persons on the beach and wounded one, while the third attack squad wounded six. Two of the wounded died on the way to hospital.

14 Rescued As Storms Lash Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — A wave of squalls swept through southern Ontario Saturday, interrupting sporting events, halting power transmission and upsetting boats.

Toronto harbor police pulled 14 persons out of the water when seven sailboats capsized as the heavy wind and rain storm lashed Toronto's Harbor Bay Saturday afternoon.

The hour-long storm, accompanied by hail in some areas, caused an estimated thousands of dollars of damage to crops in the London, Ont. area.

Two men were swept to their deaths Saturday night by six-foot waves beating an overturned cabin cruiser in Lake Simcoe. Two other men clung to the keel of the newly-bought boat all night and were rescued in the morning.

City Pilot Buried In Idaho

Funeral service for Peter Jeffrey, 25, born and educated in Victoria, who died last Wednesday in crash of a water bombing plane in the Hell's Canyon area of Idaho, was held Saturday in Boise.

He was on a bombing mission as an observer to familiarize himself with water bombing techniques when the B-25 crashed, killing Jeffrey and two other occupants of the plane.

He had lived here at 1751 Cedar Hill Cross Road and had attended Constance and Mount Douglas High School.

AT ISLAND TUG — He joined the Victoria Flying Club at the age of 16 and at one time owned his own plane here. He had been employed with Island Tug & Barge.

For the past two years he had lived in Boise with his wife, the former Diane Roskelley of Victoria, and was a pilot for Pacific Intercontinental Securities operating out of Boise.

Survivors, besides the widow, include one brother, Howard, of 3212 Carman; one sister, Mrs. Gordon Cox, 1751 Cedar Hill Cross Road, and the mother, Mrs. P. C. Jeffrey, 3212 Carman.

The 22 grim-faced teenagers smashed windows and knifed a Mexican secretary during what they described as an attempt to seek political asylum. Thirty-three known political refugees of Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo already are in the embassy.

Jobless Insurance 'Like Santa Claus'
(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA — The government was advised by one of its supporters Saturday to stop playing Santa Claus with unemployment insurance.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood), who resigned from the cabinet a year ago, told the Commons that the unemployment insurance fund has been depleted by nearly $600,000,000 in the last three years and now is in danger.

He called for the Canadian public to be given a "new point of view" on the question of unemployment insurance—a step that would probably have to be accompanied by stricter regulations.

He felt that the usage of the fund has been extended far beyond the insurance principle on which it was set up in 1941. Rather than providing insurance,

Winter Works Bill: $25 Million

Other developments in the debate:

1. Labor Minister Stagg said the recent expansion in the winter works program, under which Ottawa pays half the payroll costs for approved municipal capital works projects, will cost an estimated $25,000,000 in federal funds in the coming season. Last year Ottawa paid $12,000,000 toward projects totalling $74,000,000.

2. He also revealed that a federal inter-departmental committee now is studying the possibility of bringing farm laborers into the unemployment insurance program. They now are excluded and several MPs—including government supporters—said farmers are having difficulty recruiting farm help because of this.

3. Despite hours of opposition prodding, the minister refused to reveal confidential economic reports submitted to the government. Liberal MPs had demanded to know on what basis the government was preparing for the forthcoming high unemployment season.

The CCF renewed its campaign for a boycott of South African products as a protest against apartheid.

Erhart Regier (CCF, Burnaby, Coquitlam) asked whether Canada would follow Ghana's example in boycotting South African goods. This course had been urged by the Socialists in an earlier debate preceding the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in May.

He did not receive an answer. House Speaker Roland Michener intervened to say that Mr. Regier appeared to be launching into a new field, since Mr. Michener had "not heard of it being the responsibility of any minister to order boycotts."

'NO SYMPATHY' BY BOSS OVER POSTMEN'S WAGES

HAMILTON
... brief stop

HALIFAX (CP) — Postmaster General William Hamilton said here Sunday night he has "no sympathy" with postal associations which are complaining about wages.

He said in an interview that more than half the workers who received the recent pay increases are now making more than $4,000 a year. About half the postal workers received these pay boosts.

"I have no doubt all the other classes will be dealt with within a month or so," he said.

Those who received raises for the most part were in the lower salary brackets. Most of the remainder are already making more than $4,000.

Mr. Hamilton stopped briefly here en route to Truro to unveil a plaque during the town's bicentenary celebrations.

Reeve Aims to Open New Arena by Spring

Esquimalt's proposed Sports Centre should be ready next spring if ratepayers vote in favor Aug. 13, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said over the weekend.

He said a suggested completion date of Feb. 1 was too optimistic and it probably "would be a little later than that."

He said the arena would be operated by a manager and maintenance man under direction of an arena commission. The commission also would control revenue-producing concessions.

Esquimalt council estimated that annual cost of the arena would run about $40,000 but "certainly we will take in more than that amount," the Reeve said.

He added that so far only one complaint has been received about the proposed project after explanatory pamphlets were mailed to all property owners last week.

PORTO NOVO, Dahomey (AP) — Dahomey, an African nation of 2,000,000 people, became independent today.

Membership in the French community offers them continuing economic, technical and cultural aid.

'GOP Links Criticism Of Ike to Communism

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, after talks with Senator John Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, said Sunday the Republicans evidently are going to try to link criticism of the Eisenhower administration and Vice-President Nixon with communism.

The two-time Democratic presidential candidate told a press conference on the lawn of Kennedy's summer home here that the Republican convention last week gave "unmistakable evidence that the Republicans were going to treat any criticism of the Eisenhower administration or Nixon as defeatist, opportunist, and in some mysterious way related to communism."

Landlord Denies Discrimination

OTTAWA (CP) — Despite a landlord's denial, John Tertulian, 32-year-old federal economist, said Sunday he and his wife remain convinced they are being barred entry to a housing project because they are Negroes.

The West Indies-born civil servant described as a "complete fabrication" the landlord's contention that the refusal had nothing to do with race.

The Test of Mr. Diefenbaker

OBVIOUSLY THE FEDERAL Government is appalled by the latest financial proposals of the provinces. Well it may be. But the Government invited these excessive hopes by its election promises to put both provincial and municipal governments on easy street. Naturally, assured this inch, they have demanded an ell.

Surely, however, none of them really expected to get anything like the concessions proposed by Premier Frost, of Ontario. His plans for the division of revenues would simply knock all the fiscal plans of the Federal Government into a cocked hat, would destroy Mr. Fleming's hope of balancing his budget, unless he drastically raised his tax rates, would postpone indefinitely the day when he might achieve a surplus and begin to reduce his swollen debt.

Probably Mr. Frost, a subtle politician, asked for the whole loaf in the hope of getting half. Even half of his program is far beyond Mr. Fleming's means. Yet Mr. Fleming can hardly call these plans irresponsible, as they are, when Mr. Frost and his Conservative organization in Ontario form the hard core of the Federal Government's political power, the essential base of the next national election.

Since he sat with Mr. Diefenbaker on the hustings of the last election and urged the people of Ontario to vote for a Government which would solve all their provincial problems, Mr. Frost has been waiting for an extra sum of $100 millions from Ottawa, the other provinces to be assisted proportionately.

Now his price has gone far beyond that. In round figures his formula would compel the Federal Government to raise its payments to all the provinces from $563 millions to $1.8 billions annually, on the basis of this year's figures.

Where could Mr. Fleming find an extra sum of about a billion and a quarter dollars? The answer is that he could not possibly find it—even if the national economy grows at a maximum rate—without unthinkable tax increases.

Well Done, Commission

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA RACING commission has shown due regard for Victoria and lower Vancouver Island by refusing the application to transfer the two weeks' Sandown Park racing to Vancouver. The speedy announcement of the commission's decision has been matched by a rather indefinite statement from the interests controlling the Sandown meeting. Their spokesman says he has not yet decided whether there will be racing at Sandown this year.

Mr. W. J. Randall, president of the Ascot Jockey Club, would be acting within his legal rights if he declined to run the meeting. Horse racing is his business. If he is con-

First Step on Smoke

THE RECOMMENDATION that the City Council pass a new and adequate smoke-control bylaw is the first step toward solution of the smoke and cinder problem here. It is, however, only a first step and the council, justifiably, will watch where it is placing its feet.

As matters now stand, those plants which are blamed for creating too much smoke and fly ash are operating well within the existing bylaw. Unless they take voluntary action, there is no way to compel them to do more than they are doing, until teeth are put into the law.

It seems certain that special equipment and special burning techniques will have to be employed to cut down the smoke. Such equip-

Mr. Sugimoto Is Nominated

WHETHER HE IS ELECTED to the Provincial Legislature or not, it is good news that Yasushi Sugimoto, a Japanese Canadian, has been nominated by the Conservative Party in Grand Forks-Greenwood. This nomination like the election of a Chinese Canadian, Mr. Douglas Jung, to Parliament in Vancouver is a sign of British Columbia's political maturity.

Before the last war no political party would have chosen a citizen of Oriental ancestry to run for any office. The possibility of such a choice would have been not only impractical in politics but quite unthinkable.

In recent times we have learned

Mr. Frost's proposals are not realistic, as he must well know, but in this kind of horse trading the asking price is bound to be high. No doubt he will settle for much less, but how much?

Now that the Ottawa conference has adjourned until later in the year, Mr. Diefenbaker will plead with his chief political ally to be reasonable, lest he break the Ottawa-Toronto axis or force the Federal Government into an impossible position, with tax rates so high as to raise the cost of all production in Canada and further damage our ability to compete in the world market.

Whether Mr. Diefenbaker, a skilled advocate, can talk Mr. Frost into compromise remains to be seen. But it is certain that, failing to resist Mr. Frost, the Federal Government must abandon all pretence of governing the nation, must appear only as Ontario's prisoner.

On the other hand, to quarrel with Mr. Frost, if he refuses to yield, would be a desperate risk for Mr. Diefenbaker. Not nearly so desperate, though, as the risk of disrupting the nation's finances.

Even on the lowest political level courage would pay off for Mr. Diefenbaker better than timidity. For the people of Ontario are not merely supporters of Mr. Frost, electors who will vote as he directs. They are also the largest group of federal taxpayers in the nation and they must provide a major part of any new federal taxes imposed to buy off Mr. Frost's political threat.

Mr. Diefenbaker should stand firm for the welfare of the nation against all irresponsible local pressures and trust the good sense of the Canadian people as a whole. The opposite policy of buying off the Danes, in one guise or another, whenever they make enough trouble has gone too far already.

From it have stemmed our huge deficits, our tax increases, our high interest rates and the massive inflation of our currency. After this record Mr. Diefenbaker now confronts his supreme test. Will he stand up to Mr. Frost?

vinced that he would be operating at an unreasonable loss at Sandown, it will be his decision to forego the meeting. But one point has been established by the commission. If the 14 days' racing earmarked for Sandown does not take place there, it won't take place on the Mainland. Furthermore, if Sandown is abandoned this year many interests on Vancouver Island will feel they are the victims of a breach of faith. There is a certain obligation on the owner of a franchise to use it, and if racing is to be built up on Vancouver Island, continuity of meetings is needed. Sandown, if it is to be anything, can't be merely a sometime thing.

ment costs money. The council will have no inclination to frame a bylaw that jeopardizes the continued operation of industry here. Industry means payrolls. If the plants were forced out of business, local residents would lose jobs.

On the other hand, if the nuisance is to be removed, something more effective than the present smoke-control bylaw is necessary. The city council's job is to look after the interests of the public. It needs a new instrument to protect those interests, but in creating it, the council will avoid making one so sharp it severs important economic sinews.

Victoria wants industry and clear skies. It shouldn't be beyond human ingenuity to provide both.

a good deal about the dangers of racialist doctrines and are reminded of them every day, in news from many corners of the world.

To be sure, we have not learned nearly enough yet, nor sufficiently practised the opposite doctrine, but a profound change has occurred in British Columbia, where many of Canada's Oriental stocks live, when a Canadian Chinese represents Vancouver in the House of Commons and a Canadian Japanese becomes the Conservative candidate in the old Boundary riding.

This growing enlightenment will be noted all over Canada. And it will not be entirely overlooked in the non-white world where most of mankind lives.

BIG QUESTION OUT OF CHICAGO

After 'Seven Wonderful Years' U.S. Influence Less

THE most important question at Chicago is also a very hard one to answer. It has to do with whether and how long when Nixon will take over the leadership of the Republican party. It will not be easy for him to do this. The signs indicate that he knows he must do it—almost certainly to have a chance to win the election, very certainly to make any kind of success if he is elected.

For the general position taken by the keynote speakers, Judd, Halleck, Dirksen, and finally by the president himself, rests on a failure to understand and a refusal to look squarely at the challenge of the Soviet Union throughout the world and the challenge of the American internal development with its growing population and the great cities and the advancing technology.

Keynoters' Theme

The theme of the keynoters boils down to the assertion that all the mistakes were made before 1953, that all has been better and better ever since 1953, and that all will be well in the future if the country takes as its model and its ideal what has been done since 1953. The keynoters, including the president, claim that the challenges abroad have been met and that in its foreign and domestic actions the Eisenhower administration has been a triumphant success. It follows that not only the Democrats but Gov. Rockefeller and his many Republican followers are selling America short, they are belittling our unmatched power and greatness, and thus they are giving aid and comfort to Khrushchev. The keynoters seem to think that if only the Democrats and Rockefeller would shut up, Khrushchev would think we are all-powerful.

All the keynoters were angry at the American critics who are saying that we are not meeting the Soviet challenge, and that the balance of power is turning against this country. Some of the keynoters talked as if it were not the hard facts but what Kennedy and Rockefeller say about them which explains our trouble. All the key-misinformation of disaffected military men who have been overruled by the president. The criticism rests on a lot more besides that. It rests not only on the evidence that comes from inside the Pentagon. It rests also on the manifest fact that in recent years the power and influence of the Soviet Union and Red China have expanded dramatically.

The president assures us, and we may take his word for it, that our security system is second to none. But that is not the point. While on a direct and isolated and theoretical conflict with the Soviet Union, we are now the stronger, and may be able to continue to be the stronger in the missile age, our relative power over all is declining. How? Is there any question considering what is happening in Japan, in Korea, in Okinawa, in Vietnam, that our position in the Far East has deteriorated? Is there any doubt that our position is weakened in Turkey, is fragile in Iran, is ambiguous in Pakistan? Is it not true that during these 7 1/2 marvellous years, the Soviet influence has penetrated deeply and widely into Africa, or that it is penetrating Cuba and elsewhere in this hemisphere?

Declining

That is what the critics mean when they argue that the balance of power is turning against us. This is only a short way of saying that the Soviet and Chinese influence is expanding in Asia, in Africa, and in the Americas, and that our influence is declining.

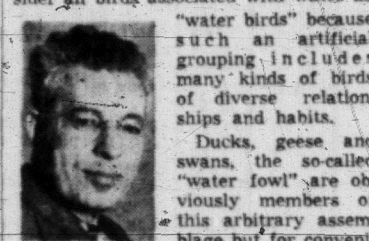

What the president does not like to see is that what counts is total national power, not only armaments but also economic power which may be directed to national, not merely to private and personal, ends. In the confrontation of national power between the Communist bloc and ourselves, we are moving backward. The proof of this is visible from Japan to Cuba.

ANIMALS AROUND US

Web-Feet and Special Diving Techniques

IT IS definitely unnatural from the classification point of view to consider all birds associated with water as "water birds" because such an artificial grouping includes many kinds of birds of diverse relationships and habits.

Ducks, geese and swans, the so-called "water fowl" are obviously members of this arbitrary assemblage but for convenience we shall include loons, grebes, cormorants, pelicans, murres, aukslets, gulls, terns, petrels and shearwaters, in fact all birds that swim on salt or fresh water. For the present we shall exclude herons, cranes, bitterns, rails and other wading shore birds.

About the only feature these so-called water birds have in common is the ability to swim. This is made possible by a special modification of the feathers which renders them more or less water resistant presumably by reason of the presence of a special oil which repels moisture. Buoyancy is also provided by the large amount of air trapped in the body feathers which are usually thick and finely divided. The quantity of entrapped air may be adjusted somewhat by grebes and other diving birds enabling them to ride partly submerged at will.

In cormorants, which may dive to a considerable depth, air is apparently driven from the feathers by water pressure making it necessary for the birds to climb out of the water and to fluff out the feathers at intervals to restore buoyancy and insulating qualities. Perhaps this is why one may see cormorants "drying" their wings even when it is raining.

The ability to repel water is lost when the feathers become soiled with foreign substances such as industrial oil which sometimes is released at sea either by accident or intent. With their waterproofing destroyed oiled birds become chilled when water penetrates to the skin so they come ashore to avoid the cold. Here, they slowly die of a combination of exposure and starvation as their normal food supply is cut off.

Propellers

Birds which swim have the feet modified in various ways to act as propellers. The most common adaptation is the presence of webs between the toes but in some groups, such as the grebes and cormorants, the toes are flattened and provided with one or more lobes.

The legs in general tend to be placed rather far back on the body which partly accounts for the characteristic waddle of ducks and geese when perambulating on land. The leg position is extreme in loons and grebes, so much so that these birds are almost helpless on land. Indeed, except for traversing a foot or so over submerged vegetation to the floating nest which they build they never leave the water except to fly. Occasionally a grebe or loon will make a "belly-landing" on a wet roadway, evidently mistaking it for a stretch of water and from such a surface they are unable to take off without assistance.

Maneuverability

Most of the swimmers also are capable of diving beneath the surface and here specialization again occurs in several interesting ways. Propulsion is usually provided by leg action and this can be remarkably efficient judging by the speed and maneuverability of birds such as cormorants, mergansers and other fish-eaters. In some birds, however, such as the aukslets, underwater locomotion is provided largely by the wings, the birds literally flying through the water. In this case the legs probably act as rudders, stabilizers, or brakes as the occasion requires.

Not much is known concerning the length of time a diving bird can remain submerged or to what depths it can penetrate. Cormorants have been timed up to 50 seconds and we do know that they can dive to 30 fathoms because several birds were caught on set lines on the bottom at that depth in Saanich Arm during Second World War when dogfish were being taken for their liver oils. How cormorants can withstand pressures at this depth, let alone see, is difficult to explain.

Slowing Heart Beat

Diving animals apparently possess a number of ingenious devices which enable them to "hold their breath" for times much longer than normal. One surprising method discovered some years ago is concerned with rate of heart beat. When a bird lowers its head to dive the heart slows down almost to a stop and the rate of beat remains exceedingly low until the body is again tilted upward at which time the heart is accelerated as if to catch up. This device helps to conserve the diver's oxygen supply and greatly prolongs the period of submergence.

Water birds, as a group, provide a lucrative field of study for the naturalist; many intriguing biological problems remain to be solved. One of the most challenging is the location of the nesting grounds of the common marbled murrelet. Though it is an abundant species, no one yet knows where it nests.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Too Close to the Reeds

Re the musical controversy. I have one question for Hans Gruber: how can he, standing within a foot or two of the orchestra, tell how it sounds to people 200 feet or more away?

I am all for Mrs. Johnson, your able critic. Over the years, she has been more than kind to the symphony orchestra. Some honest criticism should do them no harm.

WOLFGANG GILHOOLEY.

'Unjustified'

The recent unjustified assault upon the work of Victoria's Summer Symphony by Audrey St. Denis Johnson has been ably parried and indeed contained in Hans Gruber's patient analysis of all its thrusts.

It was a criticism unworthy of this eminently knowledgeable critic and carried a rather sour, unconvincing flavor of "grouch" on behalf of tourists, rather than a sincere grief over Victoria symphony's supposed shortcomings.

Audrey Johnson's reviews have had the characteristic of intellectual and aesthetic integrity and it is heartening that she reaches towards perfecting Victoria's Symphony in its achievements. However, in this review she seemed to waver from her usual pure objectivity towards an obscure purpose. Surely the "beam" was to her eye rather than the "mote".

K. M. WORTHINGTON-LAKE.

'Absolutely Justified'

May I say how much I enjoy the analytical and objective reviews of dramatic and musical events by Audrey Johnson.

As a critic she has dealt with events of international importance with distinction and an uncommon fluency, as her detailed review of the opening performance of "Madame Butterfly" at the Vancouver International Festival will amply demonstrate.

Mr. Hans Gruber's accusation of "journalistic irresponsibility" is not only completely unfair but unworthy of a public figure who has accepted without demur the many bouquets and praise-worthy comments of this same critic.

Mrs. Johnson's forthright and absolutely justifiable criticism of the below par performance of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra was courageous and sincerely felt.

It is an unpleasant task to have to administer reproof to those for whom you have a high regard and a desire to give every encouragement, but she would be failing in her duty to the public, the performers and her paper to shirk this all important job.

If Mr. Gruber wants to live up to the much publicized "third best orchestra in Canada" and fails to realize that the introduction to Musetta's aria was badly botched or that the great Mozart 39th was way below the standard required from any good symphony orchestra, he is either suffering from self-delusion or aural disability.

We are grateful and proud of the fine achievement of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra under the capable leadership and direction of Hans Gruber, but surely our popular conductor must realize that there were hundreds of alect ears at the Butchart Gardens who would have echoed the remarks of the great Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams, "It sounds wrong and it is wrong."

Welcome Reassurance

The articles by Dr. G. Clifford Carl are giving us a pleasurable opportunity of learning about the "Animals Around Us" without entailing on our part expenditure or class attendance. Nowhere else in the paper could these articles be better placed than on the editorial page.

There is a peace and reassurance in turning from the weight of humanity's complex involvements to the constant and varied world of nature.

Mr. Freeman King in his "Nature Rambles" is another whose readable articles extend our horizons beyond materialistic living to the beauties of the flora close at hand. "Nature Rambles" is well named and fills a niche for the public who want to know where and what are the beauties to be seen growing near at hand.

Another concomitant benefit on a scale beyond the materialistic is the prayer often to be found on the front page of the paper.

We are grateful that we are permitted to reap the benefit of your understanding and knowledge of our need.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, Dr. Carl and Mr. King.

Surplus Value

It's too bad that the Times had to rely on CCF economics in its satire on B.C. debt (Editorial Times July 18). Asking "who pays the interest on the new bonds, and who will pay the principal," this editorial says "no one but the customers of the hydro commission in their electrical bills, no one but the people of British Columbia."

This fantasy is based on the idea that profits are made by exchanging commodities, buying cheap and selling dear. Followed to its logical conclusions this would mean some capitalist would have all the money and the rest none, because some would be always gaining, while others always lost, with exchange eventually breaking down.

The only explanation that makes sense is, that commodities exchange on the average at their value, and that surplus value (often called profit) is made up of unpaid labor, or the difference between what is produced and what is actually produced. The facts are, the interest on these hydro bonds will be paid out of these surplus values, exploited from those workers who keep the B.C. Hydro Commission projects going, this is the real economic foundation of modern industrial society, and the source of all capital.

Turning Point

The news from Mr. Bunche that UN troops have arrived in the Congo seems to make a turning point in the world's history. Here we have a dozen different nations, rich and poor, advanced and backward, sending their men to restore law and order in a stricken country and to show its people how to carry on without being a nuisance to those around her.

A job full of difficulty but with an enormous reward, and so worth the thought and prayer of all those who want to live at peace instead of preparing for war.

ONE-HIT EFFORT STOPS VICTORIA BABE-RUTHERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill Thompson was his Sunday best in the B.C. Babe Ruth championship match here, coming within one out of hurling a no-hitter as East Burnaby defeated Victoria 3-0 to take the title.

Dave Woodley ended his bid for glory, blasting a hit into centre for a clean single in the final inning.

A shaky start cost losing pitcher Murray Wolfe the verdict. He allowed two first inning runs on two walks, two wild pitches and two singles. In all, Wolfe gave up only three hits.

East Burnaby now enters the Northwest Regional finals at Glendive, Montana, Aug. 9.

TRI-CITIES WIN Two Big Frames Sink City Stars

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Tri-Cities and Victoria traded four-run first innings, but the home club used another big frame to down the visitors 7-4 for the Northwest District Col. League Baseball title here Sunday.

Tri-Cities won it with a three-run outburst in the fifth inning on the strength of three singles and Doug Lukens' double.

Victoria scored its four first-inning runs on two singles, a walk and a triple. Tri-Cities came right back with four straight walks for one run, then got three more on Harold Brunstead's double.

Tri-Cities will represent the district at the regional Col. League championships in Pocatello, Idaho, next week.

The Victoria squad had to win after dropping a 13-3 decision to Tri-Cities Friday night and if they had won a deciding game would have been needed in the double-loss tournament.

The Canadians stayed in contention Saturday night by beating the Blue Mountain team 12-0 on a four-hit pitching effort by Bill McAdams.

Five Men for Two In Bowling Battle

Oak Bay and Nanaimo both blew their chances to clinch second place in the Victoria and District Cricket Association this weekend, but Nanaimo gets a second chance next weekend.

Oak Bay drew with Alcos at Beacon Hill Park Sunday to move two points ahead of the Hub City side, which had gone down to defeat at the hands of Five C's by five wickets at Windsor Park Saturday.

Nanaimo, however, gets a chance to move into second next Saturday when it plays Cowichan at Nanaimo. Oak Bay has run out its schedule.

In Sunday's other game, Inco's beat Albions by four wickets at University School in a rather amazing battle of bowlers.

Seventeen-year-old Chris Fibiger dismissed five Albion batsmen, clean bowled, for two runs, in one of the best bowling performances of the year. Albions were all out for 26 and it looked easy for Inco's.

But Don Hughes made it tough; he took five wickets for 16 runs before Inco's managed to run up 27.

Alcos were all out for 117, to which Oak Bay had replied with 101 for seven when time was called.

Nanaimo was all out for 106 on Saturday. Five C's scored 107 runs for five wickets.

Gail Archibald of the Vicettes pitched a no-hitter against the Hub City squad in the opener and Nita Moody allowed only two hits in the nightcap.

James Bay Clips Lake Hill Team In Island Final

DUNCAN — Victoria's James Bay All-Stars won the Vancouver Island Little League championship Sunday by downing Lake Hill All-Stars 10-4 and got all their runs on only two hits.

A crowd of 500 spectators watched the contest, in which was won by two home-run smashes that produced seven runs.

First baseman Larry Davidson drove the first home-run with the bases loaded in the second inning to erase a three-run Lake Hill lead.

The hit greeted relief pitcher Brad Mann who replaced his brother Orville on the Lake Hill mound.

THREE-RUN BLOW

Catcher Drew Schroeder cleared the second home-run in the fifth after teammates Les Austin and Bob McRae had earned walks.

A single score for the James Bay club came in the fourth inning when Gary Davidson scored on a throwing error.

FAST START

Three of the four Lake Hill players to cross the plate scored in the first inning. After starting a double play by catching a line drive and throwing the ball to first to beat the runner's return, James Bay hurler Bob McRae watched the bases load up. Frank Alexander's single and a James Bay error gave the Lake Hill club three of their four scores.

In the third inning, Lake Hill scored their fourth and final time on three walks and Brian Devin's single.

James Bay scored six times in the sixth inning. Orville Mann was relieved after wading two batters. Relief pitcher Brad Mann walked Cliff Thorburn and Drew Schroeder. John Majorki bounced a ball to Jerry Punt, who elected to try for the out at home. The catcher dropped the ball allowing a run to score. Davidson then hit the grand-slam homer.

PITCHES SHUTOUT

James Bay reached the final Saturday by blanking Victoria's American League All-Stars 4-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Thorburn.

Thorburn struck out 10 batters and also contributed a two-run single in the third inning.

Lake Hill gained the final by downing Duncan 4-1. A two-run homer by Brian Smith put the Lakers out of reach in the fourth inning and a further two runs in the fifth insured the win. Duncan scored once in the sixth.

The specialists said the damage probably would clear up within a year, but Pat and his father decided not to risk further damage.

Just Like Last Season As Chisox Extend Lead

Calendar-thumbers comparing the July pitching records of Early Wynn and Bob Shaw are envisioning a second straight American League pennant for the Chicago White Sox.

The situation is almost similar to last season's surge when Wynn and Shaw each won three games during July and Chicago led the league by a game at the end of the month.

Chicago moved into a 1½ game lead Sunday as the big right handers again chalked up victories No. 3 in July that enabled the White Sox to sweep a doubleheader from Washington, 5-2 and 9-5.

Wynn, tossing a four-hitter in the opener, achieved a personal milestone when he struck out 11 Senators batters to run his lifetime total to 2,085—replacing Bobo Newsom in the 10th spot among the all-time major league strikeout leaders. He now needs only 28 more to pass the ninth man, Eddie Plank. Minnie Mingo helped Wynn to his seventh victory of the year when his two-run homer in the third inning broke a 2-2 tie. Billy Gardner homered for Washington.

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo clinched the third and last Inter-City Lacrosse League playoff Saturday night with a decisive 20-13 victory over Victoria before 1,162 fans, smallest crowd of the season here.

Both sides played with the accent on passing and speed. Although outscored by a wide margin, Victoria always had a good share of the play but were unfortunate to run into goalie Fred Fulla on one of his good nights.

Whitney Severson was a standout on the Victoria team, directing an attack that only failed to click on some brilliant stops by Fulla, Victoria goalie. George Johnston, although beating 20 times, drew rounds of applause for some terrific saves.

Early in the fourth quarter Fulla retired in favor of Chummy Crabbe, who was

Big Salmon Mark Final Ladder Week

A lot of anglers didn't make earlier qualifying ladders, and you could tell it by the pressure on Saanich Inlet Sunday—the last day of the tenth, and final, qualifying week.

Four fish over 20 pounds were weighed in, to go with four weighed in earlier in the week, to produce the most impressive list of heavy salmon for the 10 weeks.

It took a salmon of 3 pounds 14 ounces to qualify for the tenth-week unofficial list.

given a rough time by the Victoria sharpshooters.

ASHBEE SETS PACE

Nanaimo led 5-1 in the first period, and 9-2 at half time, then increased the margin to 14-6 in the third quarter.

Don Ashbee led Nanaimo scorers with four goals, scoring three in the first period. A badly bruised leg kept him out of action for over a period and a half and he returned in the late stages of the game. Jack Bionda, Don Sherry and Tom McVie each scored three goals.

Stu Smith, Severson, Ron Jay, Tom Collett and Doug Flynn each scored twice for Victoria.

WIDE-OPEN TUSSELE

The game was wide open from the start to finish and although Victoria was well behind all the way they fought hard until the final bell. They dropped seven goals behind early in the second period and just couldn't seem to close the gap over the rest of the route.

Nanaimo now meets New Westminster in its final two games of the schedule and can make second place if they beat the mainlanders in both games.

McCovey Recalled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Giants Sunday recalled first baseman Willie McCovey and brought up relief pitcher Sherman Jones from the Tacoma club of the Pacific Coast League.

McCovey was sent to the minors July 17 when his batting average dropped to .244.

Time Getting Short For Naval Veterans

Keith Todd has a week to come up with a pretty fancy answer to his problems—and don't let anyone tell you that he hasn't got a sackful of them.

The manager of Naval Veterans of the Senior Amateur Baseball League will not have to field a team until next Monday, but when he does he'll have to produce a winner or else he can pretty well consider himself out of the play-off picture.

The Vets, who only a week ago broke a nine-game losing streak, were back in their old habits Saturday at Royal Athletic Park as they suffered their second loss in a row, a 4-0 defeat by Eagles.

Vets, counting ties, have only five games left and they are three games back of third-place Olson Motors.

NORTON EVENS SCORE IN DUEL WITH JEROME

EUGENE, Ore. (CP) — Canadian champion Harry Jerome was beaten in a hairline finish to the 100-metre sprint in a United States Olympic track and field practice meet here Saturday by Ray Norton, America's No. 1 100 metres man, whom Jerome had defeated in their only previous meeting.

Stone Johnson of Dallas, Tex., almost made it a triple, dead heat. All three were clocked in 10.4 seconds.

Jerome, a University of Oregon performer, from New Westminster, B.C., is a claimant for a share in the 10-second world record for the distance.

But in the 200 metres Johnson whipped them both in 20.9. Norton was second, Jerome third.

Another Canadian, Sig Ohlemann of Vancouver, ran second in the 800 metres, won by Jerry Siebert of Willits, Calif.

Farmers Harvest Top Playoff Spot

Farmer Construction won the Central Park Senior Softball League's division "A" championship, and a rest-on Sunday by nudging Mayo Lumber, 4-3.

Earlier in the day, Farmers had taken the easy route into position to top the title, with a victory by default over Gorge Hotel.

Don Lyon and Dennis Beaulac combined to hurl a four-hitter and send Farmers into the playoff final. They will take it easy and wait for Mayo and Gorge to settle the semi-final playoff.

Lyon gave up only two hits and faced only 22 men in six innings.

Playoffs will start Thursday night in the "A" division.

In the "B" division at Duncan, Doman Lumber finished

Olsons get a chance to cut down the WT lead tonight when they tangle with the Contractors at 6:30.

Highlight of the Eagles-Naval Vets game was Les Brice's four-hitter for the winners. Grant Udy gave up only six hits in a losing cause and three of them were by Dave Rees—two doubles and a triple.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Maureen Walker, aged 11, of Ely, Nev., for her question:

Is It True That the Sea Lion Is Not a Seal?

The seal at the circus can balance a ball on the end of his nose. He can also toot a tune, sway to the rhythm of the music, clap his flippers and bark to demand a bit of juicy raw fish. He thoroughly enjoys the performance—and so do we. In the midst of these antics, it is very annoying to have a scholarly friend tell us the charming performer is not a seal at all, but a California sea lion.

The fact is, your scholarly friend is wrong. Chances are, he knows something about the scientific classification of animals—but not enough. What's more, he has mixed up his science talk with everyday talk. In common language, a seal is any fin-footed animal, except the walrus. This means that, in ordinary language the charming performer is certainly a seal—because that is what ordinary people call him.

When it comes to placing the sea lion in his proper scientific slot, we may run into some confusion. He certainly belongs with the fur seals, the hair seals, the sea elephants and the tusk walruses in the order Pinnipedia, meaning the fin-footed ones. All of them are sea-going, air-breathing, warm-blooded, meat-eating mammals. All the members of Pinnipedia have fin-footed flippers in place of walking legs.

However, there are some marked differences in the fin-footed animals and the order Pinnipedia is subdivided into three families. The walrus is so individual that he has a family of his own. The other two families are often confusing.

The Phocidae family is better suited for life in the water. These fellows are the hair seals which may not come near the land for weeks at a time.

Their hind flippers are straight out, behind and cannot be bent up under their bodies and on land these animals are almost helpless. They have no external ears. For some reason, these hair-coated animals are also called the true seals. This is confusing, because when we think of them as the true seals, then all other seals must be false.

The California sea lion belongs in the family Otariidae, along with the Alaska fur seal and the larger Steller's sea lion. Though he roams off the shores of California, he is found as far south as southern Mexico and on far northern Pacific islands. He has a pair of furry outer ears and he can bend his back flippers under his body. This makes it possible for him to shamble about on the land.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'd like to acquaint you with the funny feud between Jackie Gleason and his boss, producer David Merrick.

"Jackie has sent word that he might be out of the show with a stomach ache," Merrick was recently informed by the stage manager of the Broadway hit, "Take Me Along."

Brother Merrick sent back a benevolent reply.

"Tell Jackie," went the message, "that I sympathize with him deeply, because when he has a stomach ache, that's like a giraffe having a sore throat."

Merrick—now being saluted as Broadway's most successful producer—was every bit as understanding when Jackie had laryngitis.

"I'm sure—POSITIVE—that Jackie wasn't feigning that illness," Merrick told me here. "He had laryngitis."

"He may have sat-up all night in front of an open window wearing wet pajamas—but he had laryngitis."

I'd like to interject that Merrick was kidding. "Jackie cast me as the villain when the show was just beginning rehearsals last year," Merrick laughed. "Word came back to me that if he didn't get his way on this or that, he had said, 'I'll get sick.'"

INSURANCE
Merrick, formerly a lawyer, took out big insurance on Gleason's non-appearance. "When he found out I would make as much money when he didn't appear, he was furious. Later I quit talking to him."

"That killed him. No matter how big they are, they can't stand their producer not talking to them."

The big blowup came when Jackie was sick—but objected to being docked.

"He sent word that he had rushed back before he was able to work and deserved not to be docked," Merrick said.

"I thought, 'WHAT! Getting paid what he's getting, and then not being docked.' Walter Pidgeon was sick—and he didn't object to being docked. Chorus girls, no, I don't dock. But big stars like Jackie should be docked."

"So I merely said that I couldn't imagine a man as rich as he was objecting to being docked such a small sum."

RATEPAYERS ASK GOV'T TO OPERATE E & N LINE

COBBLE HILL — Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association will ask the provincial government to take over the E and N Railway.

By starting a transportation service the government "has shown the big companies what can be done," said president George E. Bonner at a meeting of the council here.

"Our executive has now decided to ask the government to take over the railway and do something with it," he said.

Duncan Promised Courthouse Again

DUNCAN — A new court house will be built here, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant promised on the weekend, but he did not say when construction would start.

During the last provincial election campaign he promised at a rally here that a new court house would be built to serve Duncan and district.

In the last few months certain groups have become restive at the lack of definite action.

SITES CONSIDERED

The minister said two sites are under consideration for the new building, but he would not give their locations.

The present building on Government Street is outmoded and overcrowded. It is expected that offices now located in several other locations in the city would be consolidated in a new building.

Medical Benefits Asked for Widows

PENDER ISLAND — Decision to ask the provincial government to give medical benefits to wives and widows of War Veterans' Allowance recipients was made here by Victoria and District Zone Council, Canadian Legion.

The benefits would be the same as those granted under the Old Age Pension Act.

Host for the council meeting was Pender Island branch 239, Douglas Brook is president.

35c Per Thousand

Central Saanich will wholesale water outside the municipality for 35 cents per 1,000 gallons when it starts operation of its water system, said Reeve H. Rupert Brown.

Sidney commission and other North Saanich groups have approached council for water.

Source will be Elk Lake. Water will be carried by the Patricia Bay pipeline, which is being sold to Central Saanich by the federal government.

DUNCAN (CP) — Mrs. Hazel Fee, campaign manager for Social Credit Premier William Aberhart of Alberta in 1935, Saturday night was nominated as Social Credit candidate for Cowichan-Newcastle riding in the next provincial election.

Mrs. Fee operates a rest home in the riding. The seat now is held by B.C. CCF Leader Robert Strachan.

10 Men Risk Fiery Death In Sea Drama

VANCOUVER (CP) —

Ten men risked being blown sky high by gasoline and diesel fuel Sunday when they fought a fire aboard a barge for three hours off Stewart Island, in Bute Inlet, on a trip to Campbell River.

Ralph Pratt of North Vancouver, the only man on the barge B. A. Logger when gas vapor exploded, toppled into the water without injury and was picked up by the tug Betty Anne, which was towing the barge.

The three-member crew of the Betty Anne was joined by two Vancouver firemen, Pratt, and the four-member crew of the tug Cosbar in fighting the blaze.

The barge was about half filled with 50,000 gallons of gasoline and diesel fuel when the explosion occurred.

"At first you couldn't get on the barge," said fireman Gordon Anderson. "The decks were red hot. As soon as we put out one tank, the remaining tanks was start it burning."

They managed to extinguish the blaze with foam pumped into each of the tanks. The barge was towed into Vancouver today.

The CPR ferry Princess of Nanaimo rescued a 23-year-old man from the waters of Georgia Strait Saturday night after his craft had been adrift for several hours.

He was identified as Weiner Klumpp of Vancouver.

Officers aboard the vessel spotted a flashing light and moved in to take Klumpp off his drifting craft. When the ferry appeared to be drifting toward shore, it moved off suddenly, snapping a line that had been put aboard the small boat.

Klumpp was taken aboard the steamer and given first aid treatment while Search and Rescue officials dispatched vessels to search for Klumpp's boat.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — William Edward Elshaw, 1895 Rockland Avenue, Victoria, who pleaded guilty in police court here Thursday to breaking, entering, and theft at Cliffside Store, was sentenced to four months in jail.

His companion, a 17-year-old Victorian, pleaded guilty and was remanded to Aug. 3 for receipt of a probation report and sentencing.

Elshaw also appeared in Victoria police court Thursday when he was sentenced to four months for taking a car without the owner's consent.

He had been arrested after having been seen in a car with goods taken from the Shawnigan Lake store.

DUNCAN — David Frederick Greenidge, 218 Suzanne Place, Victoria, pleaded guilty in Duncan police court Friday to operating an unlicensed boat, and was fined $20 and $5 costs by Magistrate A. C. Sutton.

He was one of three charged by RCMP following the checking of 57 boats at Shawnigan Lake last week, and was the first to appear in court.

Const. Hugh Dickson Bowyer, RCMP, said the licence is free and obtainable from the registrar of shipping.

DUNCAN — Manghar Singh Parmar of Port Alberni was fined $40 and $5.50 court costs after pleading guilty before Magistrate A. C. Sutton in Duncan police court to a charge of careless driving.

The charge followed an accident Sunday when Parmar's car left Cowichan Lake Road and was damaged to a total of $1,000. Five persons in his car were treated for minor injuries at King's Daughters' Hospital. One passenger suffered concussion.

Parmar's driver's licence was suspended for 30 days.

"If you're caught driving while your licence is suspended it will probably mean a trip to Oakalla."

The cafe's meat cleaver and steak knife were used after entry was gained through the rear door with a screw driver and a hammer.

About $45 in tax money, left in a box beside the cash register, was taken along with the money from the machines.

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1960—PAGE 11

$600 Stolen From Tourists

Sneak Thieves Hit Motel, Hotel Rooms

Tourists are still the prey of sneak thieves in Victoria, where nearly $600, mostly in U.S. currency, has been taken from hotel and motel rooms since early Saturday.

A Seattle couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. MacRae, who were staying at the Dominion Hotel Sunday, said $60 in U.S. $20 bills was stolen from their suitcase between 12.30 and 2.30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bourland, of San Francisco, lost $300 cash and $209 in cheques from their motel room and saw two youths running out at dawn Saturday.

Similar thefts were reported to police at other tourist lodgings earlier in the week.

'Lots of Sun' With Cooler Temperatures

Victoria's scorching, sun-tanning weather of last week has gone—at least for a little while—according to weatherman William Mackie.

"We're back to cooler temperatures," he said. "While we were getting into the 80s in sheltered areas last week, we are predicting a high of 65 on the waterfront Tuesday, with a peak of 70 away from the sea breeze."

LOTS OF SUN

There will be early morning cloud, but "lots of sunshine," he said.

The weather has given drizzle at Seattle and west coast points, and this morning produced fog which at first glance looked like a huge pall of smoke over the Malahat. Langford Forest Ranger Ron Jones said this type of fog-cloud formation is a "common phenomenon" at this time of year.

ONE OF BEST

The weather of last week, like almost all of July, helped to make the month one of the best in the 73-year history of weather recording here, according to the weather summary for the month.

Maximum temperature was 80.3 degrees July 25, minimum was 48.1 July 2, and the mean for the month was 61 degrees, or one degree above normal.

There was .01 inch of rain, or .48 inch below normal, and only one day with rain, or four less than normal. Rainfall to date this year is 12.74 inches, .09 inch below normal.

There were 410.7 hours of bright sunshine, some 73.5 hours more than usual. Total for the year is 1,443.4 hours, or 22 hours more than normal.

"July of 1958 had no rain, and a record 424.7 hours of sunshine," Mr. Mackie said. The past July was one of eight recorded here to have .01 inch of rain or less.

Sky-Divers May Perform At Pat Bay

Efforts are being made here to stage a "sky diving" show at Patricia Bay Airport either late this month or early next month.

Members of the mainland Sky Divers' Club, who fly out of Langley and do their delayed parachute jumps at Fry's Corners, in the Fraser Valley, discussed a show with Victoria Flying Services officials during the fly-in Sunday at Patricia Bay.

William Cove, pilot for the local firm, said it would provide aircraft for the jumpers who leap from heights of 2,500 feet up.

75,000 "There was a lot of interest shown in the idea," he said. "I think we could get 75,000 people here to see a show."

He said a minimum area of 84 acres is needed for a performance, and that it could "just barely" be managed at the Victoria airport.

DUTIES STARTED TODAY as assistant commissioner of Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau for Gordon Crockett, 44, of Prince George, until recently publisher of Prince George Citizen. He has had wide experience in weekly newspaper field, at one time owning the newspaper at Summerland, B.C., and also served in postwar period with DVA public relations. Married, he has three children.

Winter Work Extension Welcomed

A report that the federal government expects to extend its 1960-61 winter works program to help smaller communities, was welcomed today by Saanich finance committee chairman George Austin.

"Saanich will benefit if the government carries out its plan," he said. "It would reduce our costs for the construction of a new fire hall."

The government's plan to extend the winter works program was outlined by Labor Minister Starr in a letter to all provincial premiers and made known today in Ottawa.

The 1960-61 program extends winter works assistance for the first time to include construction and major reconstruction and alterations to municipal buildings, other than schools and hospitals.

LIMITED

Previously, the plan by which the federal government pays half the payroll costs of municipal winter works was limited to roads and bridges, water and sewage facilities, and parks and playgrounds.

Mr. Austin said the new fire hall to replace the old No. 1 fire hall on Douglas will cost the municipality between $150,000 to $200,000.

Federal assistance would reduce our costs," he said.

He also said the extended program would also help pay for the landscaping and fencing of the new municipal yard near McKenzie Avenue.

Two New Polio Suspects As 'Bad Year' Builds Up

Two new suspects admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital over the weekend raised the Victoria total of confirmed and unconfirmed polio patients to 15.

Both children—aged 2½ and eight years—the new patients are still under observation.

The total dropped one from 14 on Saturday with discharge of an adult male who had been under treatment for a considerable time.

Experts fear this month will take the heaviest toll of the year, however, if the usual pattern develops.

Ian King, director of the B.C. Foundation of Poliomyelitis, says the province is heading for its worst polio year since Salk vaccine was introduced in 1955.

The B.C. total is sure to exceed the 1959 total of 129 cases, he said, and that was the biggest number since Salk vaccine.

To week's end, there had been 79 cases confirmed in B.C., the worst-hit area being the Cariboo with 30 patients.

THIRD OF TOTAL

This province leads all other provinces and has one-third of all the cases reported in Canada.

Mr. King said there is plenty of Salk vaccine available free in health units throughout B.C., but people won't take advantage of it.

"The only thing that will get people into clinics is a mild polio scare. Nothing else will do," The director said people take polio for granted and do little about it.

In Victoria there has been greater response to free polio shots in the first seven months of this year than in the January-July period a year ago.

Victoria health unit reports giving 6,145 doses of vaccine up to Aug. 1 this year, compared to 4,081 in 1959.

The last three weeks have been busiest, and if the trend continues, August should be even busier.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Already under suspension for previous driving offences, Adam Lancelot Rutherford, 2719 Mount Stephen, was recommended for a further suspension when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to driving while suspended.

He was fined $100 for the offence.

Another 200 men of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry who have been in summer training at Camp Wainwright, Alberta, will arrive here Tuesday night.

They are in addition to 150 who arrived Saturday after six weeks at the Alberta military establishment.

The men will arrive at Work Point Barracks in three stages at about 6 p.m., 8 and 10 p.m.

The Island Tug and Barge deepsea tug Cambrian Salvor left Victoria this morning with two former Liberty ships in tow on a 5,000-mile trip across the Pacific.

The tug was due to set out on the tandem tow Sunday but strong winds delayed her departure from VMD at Ogden Point.

Cambrian Salvor is ferrying boats to breakers yards in Japan. On her return she will take in tow two more ships at present moored in Saanich Bay.

A two-car crash at Cadboro Bay and Maynard Saturday night sent a driver and passenger to Jubilee Hospital with minor abrasions and shock.

Mrs. Ernesto De la Rosa, 48, of San Benito, Tex., who was in a car driven by Hector Cardenas, Fort Lewis, Wash., is in satisfactory condition with shock.

The other driver, Robert Carlow, 33, of 2956 Albina, was treated for abrasions, then released.

Lazlo Kerckemeti, 65 Gov. ernment, was fined $100 and his driver's licence was suspended in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to criminally negligent driving.

Police said the accused drove on Cook at speeds up to 55 miles an hour, crossed the centre line, while passing other cars, weaving and cutting into traffic narrowly avoiding a head-on collision before he was stopped.

Fourteenth annual show of the Victoria Gladiolus Society will be held this Friday and Saturday in the Crystal Garden.

The flower exhibition will open at 2 p.m. Friday through to 9.30 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

Blooms will be auctioned when the show closes Saturday.

A small amount of cash and some cigarettes were stolen by a burglar who broke into Gorge Coffee Shop, 1215 Tillam, overnight Sunday.

Esquimalt police said there was no other merchandise missing and that the cash would be less than $10.

More than 1,000 youngsters from five to 18 are expected to participate in a field sports day Wednesday afternoon that winds up the six-week program in city park playgrounds.

The events will be held in Central Park starting at 1 p.m. Races, novelty contests, boxing, and handicrafts demonstrations will be on the program expected to last 2½ hours.

Attendance at this summer's playground sessions is expected to top 40,000 by the final period Wednesday morning.

A pair of heavy duty auto batteries valued at $44 were stolen at the weekend from F & F Tractor Service, 2940 Douglas.

Police were told of nothing else missing from the shop.

SANDOWN DECISION BY AUG. 15

Greater Victoria racing fans will know in two weeks whether or not there will be racing at Sandown this year.

Track operator Bill Randall today promised to say "yes" or "no" to the proposition by "about Aug. 15."

Mr. Randall said he will need two weeks to discuss arrangements with horsemen and track personnel.

The B.C. Racing Commission Saturday denied Mr. Randall's application to transfer Sandown dates to Exhibition Park. City and Sidney businessmen, sportsmen and breeders opposed the move.

Sandown is scheduled to run from Sept. 17 to Oct. 10.

TOP STANDING in third year paediatrics at the University of B.C. medical school won 1954 prize for Jeremy S. D. Winter, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Winter, 110 Beach. The prize was donated by the Borden Company.

Limited. Mr. Winter won the Governor-General's bronze medal when he graduated from Oak Bay High School in 1954 with 94.6 per cent standing. He also won a $100 Canadian Medical Association bursary and a $200 award from the Dr. Ernest Roland Myers Scholarship Fund in 1958 after entering UBC.

THOSE BALLOONS Also to be sold are 64 outsize canvas balloons that were purchased for downtown decorations but were quickly put into storage by the centennial committee when efforts to successful. Chairman of the trustees committee, Aid. Geoffrey Edgely, said he will meet with a committee organizing the 1962 World's Fair in Seattle this month in an effort to sell the seven-foot-diameter balloons.

Tourist Injured As Boats Collide

A U.S. tourist is in satisfactory condition in a Vancouver hospital today following a Saturday boating accident at Campbell River.

Wilbur Abrams, 52, of Seattle, was in a power boat when it collided with another craft operated by Jack Birch of Campbell River.

Mr. Abrams, his wife, and two children were taken aboard the Birch boat. Mr. Abrams was taken to Campbell River General Hospital for treatment of a broken jaw and other head injuries; then was flown to Vancouver.

LATE BREAKFAST Although the meal was scheduled as a breakfast, visitors were arriving both by air and ground up to 4.30 p.m.

Unexpected, unofficial, and impromptu star of the show was a Fairchild F-27 executive aircraft valued at more than $1,000,000, which had landed

Building Slump Continues Here

The construction slump continued last month in the three outlying municipalities, according to building permit figures released today.

Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt all reported severely reduced construction totals, particularly dwelling construction. City figures were not available but they were expected to show the same pattern.

Saanich issued 66 building permits worth $361,060 last month, including 28 for houses worth $314,600. This compared with 101 permits worth $718,640 in July, 1959, including 50 houses worth $568,500.

HOUSES DOWN

The July figures brought the total for the year to 491 permits worth $3,826,820 compared with 716 permits valued at $5,671,179 for the first seven months of 1959. Heaviest drop in the cumulative total was in house construction with 223 dwellings worth $2,670,200 recorded this year compared with 413 worth $4,759,530 during the corresponding period last year.

Oak Bay issued 47 permits valued at $66,210 last month including two for houses worth $35,000. This compared

17 'Not Guilty' Pleas Entered In Gaming Case

Seventeen men facing gaming house charges in city police court after a raid on a downtown private club last Monday entered pleas of not guilty today.

An alleged keeper and 16 found-ins at the Sports Club, 654 Yates, were remanded to Thursday for trial.

They are represented by counsel Lloyd McKenzie, who entered the pleas on their behalf.

William Plotnikoff is charged with being keeper of a common gaming house, the third of such charges laid last month by city police. Two alleged keepers and 14 found-ins were charged after an earlier raid on premises at 1628 Government and are awaiting trial.

FLY-IN GUESTS FILL UP ON CRUMPETS

'Exec' Plane Steals Show

Poor weather in the Fraser Valley and south of Seattle halved the number of aircraft expected at Patricia Bay Airport Sunday for the first annual fly-in to this area, but 42 pilots managed to arrive for the fun.

It was sponsored by Victoria Flying Services, which converted its hangar into a "Barron's Victoria" modelled after the cartoons of Times artist Sid Barron.

Police in bobby helmets, hanging baskets, girls in dress of the 1890's, and men in plus fours and mufflers, helped with receiving guests and contributed to the consumption of 210 breakfasts and 600 crumpets.

Although the meal was scheduled as a breakfast, visitors were arriving both by air and ground up to 4.30 p.m. Unexpected, unofficial, and impromptu star of the show was a Fairchild F-27 executive aircraft valued at more than $1,000,000, which had landed for fuel while on a trip to Williams Lake.

When invited to the fly-in the pilot brought the plane to the hangar and threw it open to inspection by the visitors.

Owned by Westinghouse Electric and powered by two Rolls-Royce Dart gas turbines, it has a gross weight of 36,500 pounds and cruises at 300 miles per hour.

Light and medium aircraft lined up beside Victoria Flying Services hangar Sunday for first annual fly-in at Patricia Bay Airport. Many visitors arrived by car, while those flying to breakfast were from Snohomish, Gulf and San Juan Islands, Vancouver, Nanaimo, and other up-Island points. (Port Angeles sent 12 for largest number from any one point. (Times Photo.)

WHY GROW OLD?

Marathon 'Winner' Lost 155 Pounds, Gained Energy

I am going to let you in on some REAL excitement this week. I am printing some of the letters I have had from Marathon winners. These are so inspiring and so full of human interest that I know you will enjoy them.

As most of you know I run my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon each January. Tens of thousands of women join to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks' time, with my direction. The "result" letters which come in to me always give me a big thrill. Every August I print some of these, because they are fascinating reading and may also inspire you to see how much you can improve your appearance and health in just eight short weeks.

Dear Mrs. Lowman: "I just have to write you to tell you how wonderful I think your Marathon is. Last year (1959) I started when you were having it in the paper. I had such great results that I kept on with it. Since then I have lost 155 pounds. It sounds hard to believe, I know, but it's true. When I started I weighed 370 pounds. I could barely get around to do my work. I was a mess — only 5 feet 4 inches tall and 370 pounds! I wore a size 60 dress and that was a tight fit. This spring my dress size is 22½. "I did all of my exercises and lost weight gradually so that I am not in the least bit flabby or shriveled looking like some people who have lost lots of weight. In fact the texture of my skin has improved. I used to be so tired all of the time. Now I have plenty of energy to do all my work and I feel wonderful. You may not have this much weight to lose but you might like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks.

If you missed my Marathon last January and would like the Marathon booklet which gives you all the information you need, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

June Oakley, Blair McLean Wed Groom's Father Hears the Vows

Father of the groom, Dr. J. L. W. McLean heard the marriage vows of Miss June Oakley and Blair McLean in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Saturday evening. Baskets of white gladioli, carnations and gypsophylla decorated the church for the marriage uniting daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Muir Oakley of Victoria and the son of Dr. McLean and Mrs. McLean. Guest pews were marked with blue nosegays and satin ribbon. Miss Beverly Lidstone sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The attractive, dark-haired bride entered the church on her father's arm. She wore a full-length gown of lace and net posed over white satin. Basque bodice was enhanced by a V-shaped, scalloped neckline outlined with lace. Tiny seed pearls were embroidered on the wrists of fitted lily point sleeves. The waistline dipped to a V in front and back, accenting the full hooped skirt. A taira of iridescent sequins and seed pearls held the bride's finger-tip, illusion veil, which was edged with lace, sprinkled with sequins. She carried a cascade of white carnations and stephanotis. Gowns in ice-blue brocaded taffeta were worn by attendants, Mrs. Evan Oakley, bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Arlene Bosson. They wore bandeaux of wispy blue veiling and ribbon accented with yellow marguerites. Baskets they carried, were filled with yellow marguerites, trimmed with ivory satin streamers.

John Reid was best man. Ushers were Rev. Walter McLean, groom's brother; Terry Vancoe and Thomas Bourne.

Reception was held at Uplands Golf Club. Bridal table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped with double rings and surrounded with blue, tulip, Silver Candelabra, bowls of sweet-peas and baby's breath decorated table. Presiding were Miss Margaret Jones, bride's aunt from New Westminster and Mrs. R. H. Green. J. C. Nimmo proposed the toast.

Serviteurs were Mrs. Ken Draper, Mrs. R. McCormick, and the Misses Janice Oakley, Margaret Jones, Diane Watkin and Julie Beecroft.

A pink satin sheath dress with over-tunic of Guipure lace and floral hat en tone was worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. McLean wore a petal pink sheath dress of nylon and lace. Her accessories were en tone. Both had corsages of white roses.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to the United States, the bride donned a beige linen suit, bandeau hat of brown and gold velvet leaves and brown and gold accessories. Her corsage was of roses. Newlyweds will make their home in Prince George where both will be teaching school.

SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available - a quality

material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, light weight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood.

It is very easily worked,

is free from pitch, takes

and holds stains, paints

and enamels excellently,

and is superior for glue-

ing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heart-

wood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING

paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen.

It is one of the most stable species of lumber,

having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings

when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING

QUALITIES

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly-used soft woods - another point in its favor

as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

Record Entries, Poor Crowd At Colorful Highland Games

A thin crowd of slightly more than 1,100 persons Saturday turned out at Victoria High School to watch the 23rd annual Highland Gathering held here.

Chill winds in the afternoon were blamed for the poor spectator showing.

Victoria Highland Games Association president R. B. Robertson described the day as "successful" although the gate wasn't expected to meet expenses.

But he said the financial aspect was not the main reason for staging the gathering.

'PROVE THEMSELVES'

"We are here to provide a setting for our youngsters to prove themselves, both in dancing and piping, and track and field."

There was a record entry of more than 200 in the dancing and piping sections.

SAN-BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—

Eight-year-old Daniel Gale was sleepy after a day at Disneyland.

He had fallen asleep in the back seat of a car belonging to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair V. Gale of Springville, Utah, as soon as they left the amusement park Saturday.

One hour and 40 miles later, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of Pomona, Calif., stopped at a restaurant and noticed a stranger curled up sleeping in the back seat of their auto.

They notified the sheriff's office which notified police here who were able to relay the happy news to two worried parents.

'HONEST BROKER' ROLE NO MORE FOR CANADA

CALGARY (CP)—External Affairs Minister Howard Green said in an interview here that Canada is no longer trying to act as intermediary between the United States and Great Britain.

He said, "Canadians are no longer the honest brokers primarily interested in helping the British to understand the American and vice-versa. America and Britain are just about as close as two people could be."

Atom-Free Zone Asked By Peking

PEKING (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said tonight China would like to conclude a peace pact which would include the United States, setting up a zone free of nuclear weapons in Asia and the western Pacific.

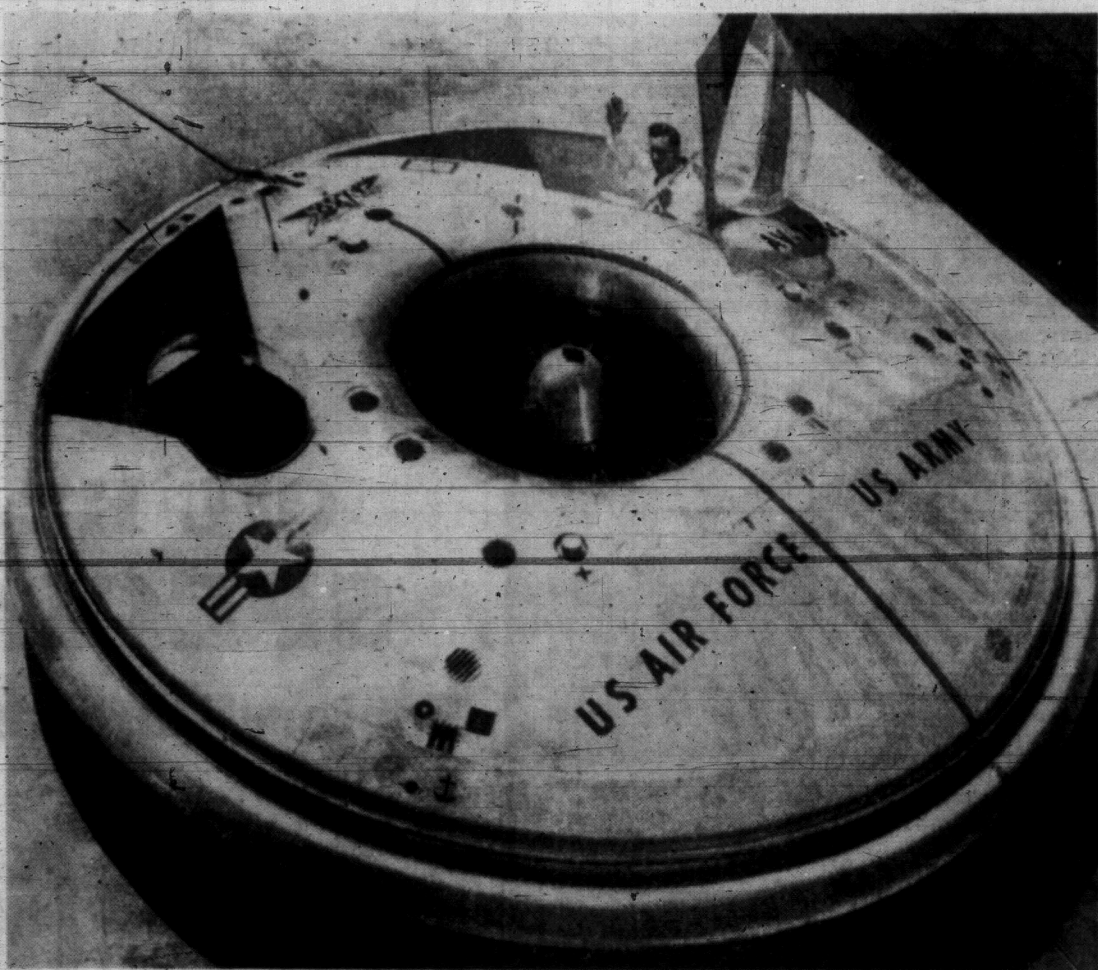

Chou made his offer in an off-the-cuff speech at a Swiss embassy garden party. Diplomats considered his statement one of the mildest heard from a Chinese leader in years.

Chou said that "today there are in the world military blocs such as SEATO which are hostile to China and are trying to encircle our country and pose a threat to it. But we stand for peaceful co-existence."

He said the peaceful co-existence and good relations between China and Switzerland were "a good example to all the world."

"We have proposed the conclusion of a peace pact for a non-nuclear zone in Asia and the western Pacific. This, of course, would include the United States," he declared.

Chou added that "some provocateurs have accused China of having given up its policy of seeking peaceful relations with countries with different social systems. These are slanders and not at all correct."

Canada to Send 500 Troops For Duty With UN in Congo

Commons Gives Approval

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has authorized dispatch of up to 500 Canadian soldiers to the Congo for United Nations duty, Prime Minister Diefenbaker informed the Commons today.

In addition, the Canadian government will provide eight aircraft for transport duties in the Congo—four North Stars already there and four Caribous to be obtained from de Havilland Aircraft Limited of Downsview, Ont.

The 500 Canadian soldiers will be signallers and supply personnel, the prime minister said in introducing a resolution asking parliamentary approval for sending a Canadian force to the Congo. The Commons gave unanimous approval after a three-hour debate.

An advance party of six officers left Montreal for the Congo Saturday and the main body is expected to begin leaving in about eight to 10 days.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

The prime minister disclosed that Premier Lumumba of the Congo on Saturday told him that he would like Canada to participate in an investment program for the Congo.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he told Mr. Lumumba that he didn't expect this hope would be attained because Canada itself needed capital.

The prime minister accused Russia of "continuance of a belligerent and blatant attitude" in recent weeks in regard to the Congo.

He said it was interesting to note that Mr. Lumumba had refused to meet the Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington but had met Russian Ambassador Amassap Aroutunian here Saturday.

In his hour-long conference with Mr. Diefenbaker Saturday, Mr. Lumumba said he hoped Canada would provide French-speaking technicians for the Congolese administration.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government will communicate with the universities, professional groups and the National Research Council to make known the needs of the Congo.

He said that unless order is re-established in the Congo events there might "expand."

He hailed formation of the UN Congo force as a "great step forward" toward establishment of an international force for peace. In all history there had never been a force like the one now being mobilized.

Two Caribou planes—an aircraft capable of taking off and landing on short distances—would be acquired now to lift supplies to Canadian forces within the Congo. A third Caribou would be acquired in September and a fourth in October.

The resolution won the immediate support of Opposition Leader Pearson who said Canadian forces will form the backbone of the UN operation because of the technical nature of their contribution.

CONGO-BOUND

Two Work Point Barracks soldiers today are en route to strife-torn Congo, among five B.C. soldiers joining Canadian contingent now grouping at Barrie Ont. Cpls. K. M. Williams, (left) service corps, 755 Lampson, and G. A. Longpre, signal corps, 482 Peters, left here Sunday. Both have three children. Williams has been in army since 1948 and Longpre since 1951. Home towns are Vancouver and Joliette Quebec, respectively.

OVER CONGO

Dag Rapped By Russians

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Moscow Radio accused United Nations Secretary-General Hammarskjold today of supporting aggression in the Congo. Sunday Moscow accused Belgium of further aggression.

The charge against Belgium brought a strong reply today from the United States which accused Russia of hindering UN efforts by threatening to take "decisive measures" against what Moscow called continuing aggression.

"The Soviet leaders must be aware that this kind of public statement can only add to the problems of those who are seriously trying to restore peace and order in the Congo," a U.S. state department statement said.

While the state department was castigating Moscow, Russia was attacking Hammarskjold.

"The aggressors are becoming more brazen," Moscow said. "This is understandable since behind the mere not only the NATO colonial powers, The UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, staying now in Leopoldville, is supporting them by his more than conciliatory position."

"It is becoming increasingly evident that his activities cannot promote the implementation of the Security Council's decision on the early withdrawal of the Belgian troops."

Hammarskjold sent his political adviser, Hendrik Wieshoff, to Brussels to ask Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny when the Belgians could withdraw their troops as demanded by the Security Council. So far Belgium has announced the withdrawal of only 1,500 of their 10,000 men.

Whether Hammarskjold would send UN troops into the rebellious province was not known. Premier Moise Tshombe, who has used Belgian troops there to restore order, said he would fight UN forces.

The Congolese government was exerting increasing pressure on Hammarskjold to remove the Belgian troops from all the Congo—including Katanga. A blowup was feared when Premier Patrice Lumumba returns to Leopoldville from trips to Washington and Ottawa.

The Katanga government sent emissaries to Belgium to plead for independence and was sending another delegation to the United Nations for the same reason.

ALTERNATIVE TO U.S. PLAN

Reds Ask UN Arms Summit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today what would amount to a summit conference on disarmament at the United Nations general assembly opening Sept. 20.

In a letter to the chairman of the 82-nation UN disarmament commission, the Soviet Union said it opposes a United States proposal for an early meeting of the commission, composed of all the UN's 82 members.

It declared that the assembly is the best forum for taking up disarmament and added: "The Soviet government believes that personal participation of the heads of government of member states of the UN in the discussion of the disarmament problem at the general assembly would answer this purpose best of all."

In a letter to Mexican ambassador Luis Padilla Nervo, chairman of the commission, the Soviet Union charged that the "internal situation in the United States" prompted the U.S. move.

In a letter to commission members Friday, Padilla Nervo suggested that the commission be convened Aug. 15. The general assembly meets Sept. 20, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev has already said he would press for a full discussion of disarmament then.

President Eisenhower announced last month that he would seek an early meeting of the UN disarmament commission following the Communist walkout from the 10-nation disarmament talks in Geneva.

Lightning Touches Off New B.C. Forest Fires

KAMLOOPS (CP)—More than 20 major forest fires were still blazing today in British Columbia despite an overnight storm which proved only a mixed blessing.

STORM LEAVES DEVASTATION IN FORMOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Violent downpours in the wake of typhoon Shirley flooded Formosa today and confronted this island with the danger of a major disaster.

At least six persons were killed and 120 injured in the typhoon that struck Sunday. Dispatches from points outside Taipei reported that 23 inches of rain fell in the Yunlin district of central Formosa in a period of three hours.

The Taan River overflowed and marooned 30,000 inhabitants of the town of Wanli in northwest Formosa.

The storm killed two persons, destroyed 30 homes and caused heavy crop damage on the Ryukyu Island of Yonaguni south of Japan. It was headed today for the Communist Chinese mainland.

Lightning started it. It was an electrical storm three weeks ago which started the present Kamloops district fire crisis.

Lightning strikes were reported in the Blue River area, 100 miles north of here, where a 10,000-acre Alan Creek fire is presenting a growing problem to fire fighters. Severe strikes also occurred at Barriere, 30 miles north of here, and at Keremeos, 100 miles south.

CAMPERS, SMOKERS BLAMED

Careless smokers and illegal fire-builders today are blamed for 19 out of 21 new forest fires reported in the coastal mainland and Vancouver forest district over the weekend.

Although camp fires are prohibited through most of the district the public still is allowed access to recreation areas.

These may close if the situation deteriorates.

Six island fires were doused Sunday, two at Langford, two at Campbell River and two at Nanaimo.

One at Nanaimo was caused by a railway spark. The others were all either cigarettes or camp fires.

There would have been more than six, said a forest service official, but for special patrols of fire-spotters in jeeps.

The camp fire ban covers the east side and all of the southern tip, he said. Fires are allowed only in the north-west area around Tofino and Ucluelet.

Back to Fire Lines For Repaired Bomber

A damaged B-17 four-motored water bomber which made a wheels-up landing in Kamloops, then was flown here for repairs to wings, fuselage, and watertank doors, took off from Patricia Bay for the interior fire lines at 6 a.m. today.

The $3,000 repair job was done by Fairley Aviation Co. Kenneth Hibbert, acting manager, said six-man crews kept work on the plane going round the clock, and finished Sunday at midnight.

The plane arrived at the Victoria airport Friday. It was damaged while working on forest fires in the Kamloops area. Owner is an American firm.

PAIR HUNTED BY FBI

Secret Agency Men Vanish

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI is searching for two missing employees of the super-secret National Security Agency, the defence department disclosed today.

The two men, who had access to secret information, have been missing since they ostensibly departed together on a vacation June 24.

The department identified them as Bernon F. Mitchell, 31; Laurel, Md., and William H. Martin, 29.

Martin recently had returned to the security agency, at Fort Meade, Md., from a year's study in advanced mathematics at the University of Illinois.

The defence department never has specified what the duties of the National Security Agency may be, simply saying that it "performs highly specialized technical and co-ordinating functions relating to the national security. It was established by President Truman in 1952.

The Pentagon said in answer to inquiries that it reported the two men missing over the past weekend after its own search had been fruitless. Maryland police and the FBI were both alerted.

Mitchell and Martin, both mathematicians in the $8,000-a-year income bracket, served in the navy from 1951 to 1954. Both were employed by the security agency on the same day, July 8, 1957.

Neither is married.

$600 Stolen From Tourists

Sneak Thieves Hit Motel, Hotel Rooms

Tourists are still the prey of sneak thieves in Victoria, where nearly $600, mostly in U.S. currency, has been taken from hotel and motel rooms since early Saturday.

A Seattle couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. MacRae, who were staying at the Dominion Hotel Sunday, said $60 in U.S. $20 bills was stolen from their suitcase between 12.30 and 2.30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bourland, of San Francisco, lost $300 cash and $209 in cheques from their motel room and saw two youths running out at dawn Saturday.

Similar thefts were reported to police at other tourist lodgings earlier in the week.

'Lots of Sun' With Cooler Temperatures

Victoria's scorching, sun-tanning weather of last week has gone—at least for a little while—according to weatherman William Mackie.

"We're back to cooler temperatures," he said. "While we were getting into the 80s in sheltered areas last week, we are predicting a high of 65 on the waterfront Tuesday, with a peak of 70 away from the sea breeze."

There will be early morning cloud, but "lots of sunshine," he said.

The weather has given drizzle at Seattle and west coast points, and this morning produced fog which at first glance looked like a huge pall of smoke over the Malahat. Langford Forest Ranger Ron Jones said this type of fog-cloud formation is a "common phenomenon" at this time of year.

ONE OF BEST

The weather of last week, like almost all of July, helped to make the month one of the best in the 73-year history of weather recording here, according to the weather summary for the month:

Maximum temperature was 80.3 degrees July 25, minimum was 48.1 July 2, and the mean for the month was 61 degrees, or one degree above normal.

There was .01 inch of rain, or .48 inch below normal, and only one day with rain, or four less than normal. Rainfall to date this year is 12.74 inches, .09 inch below normal.

There were 410.7 hours of bright sunshine, some 73.5 hours more than usual. Total for the year is 1,443.4 hours, or 22 hours more than normal.

"July of 1958 had no rain, and a record 424.7 hours of sunshine," Mr. Mackie said. The past July was one of eight recorded here to have .01 inch of rain or less.

Sky-Divers May Perform At Pat Bay

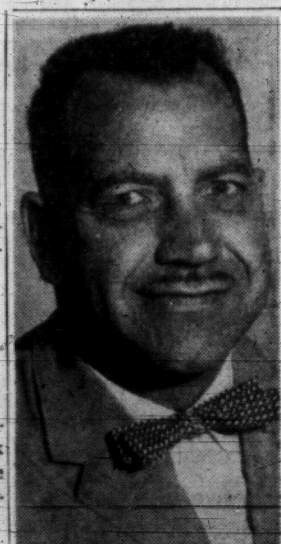

Efforts are being made here to stage a "sky diving" show at Patricia Bay Airport either late this month or early next month.

Members of the mainland Sky Divers' Club, who fly out of Langley and do their delayed parachute jumps at Fry's Corners, in the Fraser Valley, discussed a show with Victoria Flying Services officials during the fly-in Sunday at Patricia Bay.

William Cove, pilot for the local firm, said it would provide aircraft for the jumpers, who leap from heights of 2,500 feet up.

"There was a lot of interest shown in the idea," he said. "I think we could get 75,000 people here to see a show."

He said a minimum area of 84 acres is needed for a performance, and that it could "just barely" be managed at the Victoria airport.

DUTIES STARTED TODAY as assistant commissioner of Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau for Gordon Crockett, 44, of Prince George, until recently publisher of Prince George Citizen. He has had wide experience in weekly newspaper field, at one time owning the newspaper at Sumnerland, B.C., and also served in postwar period with DVA public relations. Married, he has three children.

Winter Work Extension Welcomed

A report that the federal government expects to extend its 1960-61 winter works program to help smaller communities, was welcomed today by Saanich finance committee chairman George Austin.

"Saanich will benefit if the government carries out its plan," he said. "It would reduce our costs for the construction of a new fire hall."

The government's plan to extend the winter works program was outlined by Labor Minister Starr in a letter to all provincial premiers and made known today in Ottawa.

The 1960-61 program extends winter works assistance for the first time to include construction and major reconstruction and alterations to municipal buildings, other than schools and hospitals.

Previously, the plan by which the federal government pays half the payroll costs of municipal winter works was limited to roads and bridges, water and sewage facilities, and parks and playgrounds.

Mr. Austin said the new fire hall to replace the old No. 1 fire hall on Douglas will cost the municipality between $150,000 to $200,000.

Federal assistance would reduce our costs," he said. He also said the extended program would also help pay for the landscaping and fencing of the new municipal yard near McKenzie Avenue.

Two New Polio Suspects As 'Bad Year' Builds Up

Two new suspects admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital over the weekend raised the Victoria total of confirmed and unconfirmed polio patients to 15.

Both children—aged 2½ and eight years—the new patients are still under observation.

The total dropped one from 14 on Saturday with discharge of an adult male who had been under treatment for a considerable time.

Experts fear this month will take the heaviest toll of the year, however, if the usual pattern develops.

Ian King, director of the B.C. Foundation of Poliomyelitis, says the province is heading for its worst polio year since Salk vaccine was introduced in 1955.

The B.C. total is sure to exceed the 1959 total of 129 cases, he said, and that was the biggest number since Salk vaccine.

To week's end, there had been 79 cases confirmed in B.C., the worst-hit area being the Cariboo with 30 patients.

THIRD OF TOTAL

This province leads all other provinces and has one-third of all the cases reported in Canada.

Mr. King said there is plenty of Salk vaccine available free in health units throughout B.C., but people won't take advantage of it.

"The only thing that will get people into clinics is a mild polio scare. Nothing else will do," the director said. People take polio for granted and do little about it.

In Victoria there has been greater response to free polio shots in the first seven months of this year than in the January-July period a year ago.

Victoria health unit reports giving 6,145 doses of vaccine up to Aug. 1 this year, compared to 4,081 in 1959.

The last three weeks have been busiest, and if the trend continues, August should be even busier.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Already under suspension for previous driving offences, Adam Lancelotti Rutherford, 2719 Mount Stephen, was recommended for a further suspension when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to driving while suspended.

He was fined $100 for the offence.

Another 200 men of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry who have been in summer training at Camp Wainwright, Alberta, will arrive here Tuesday night.

They are in addition to 150 who arrived Saturday after six weeks at the Alberta military establishment.

The men will arrive at Work Point Barracks in three stages at about 6 p.m., 8 and 10 p.m.

The Island Tug and Barge deepsea tug Cambrian Salvor left Victoria this morning with two former Liberty ships in tow on a 5,000-mile trip across the Pacific.

The tug was due to set out on the tandem tow Sunday but strong winds delayed her departure from VMD at Ogden Point.

Cambrian Salvor is ferrying boats to breakers yards in Japan. On her return she will take in tow two more ships at present moored in Saanich Bay.

A two-car crash at Cadboro Bay and Maynard Saturday night sent a driver and passenger to Jubilee Hospital with minor abrasions and shock.

Mrs. Ernesto De la Rosa, 48, of San Benito, Tex., who was in a car driven by Hector Cardenas, Port Lewis, Wash., is in satisfactory condition with shock.

The other driver, Robert Carlow, 33, of 2956 Albina, was treated for abrasions, then released.

Laszlo Kerckemeti, 65, Government, was fined $100 and his driver's licence was suspended in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to criminally negligent driving.

Police said the accused drove on Cook at speeds up to 55 miles an hour, crossed the centre line while passing other cars, weaving and cutting into traffic, narrowly avoiding a head-on collision before he was stopped.

Fourteenth annual show of the Victoria Gladiolus Society will be held this Friday and Saturday in the Crystal Garden.

The flower exhibition will open at 2 p.m. Friday through to 9.30 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

More than 1,000 youngsters from five to 18 — are expected to participate in a field sports day Wednesday afternoon that winds up the six-week program in city park playgrounds.

The events will be held in Central Park starting at 1 p.m. Races, novelty contests, boxing, and handicrafts demonstrations will be on the program expected to last 2½ hours.

Attendance at this summer's playground sessions is expected to top 40,000 by the final period Wednesday morning.

A pair of heavy duty auto batteries valued at $44 were stolen at the weekend from F & F Tractor Service, 2940 Douglas.

Police were told of nothing else missing from the shop.

SANDOWN DECISION BY AUG. 15

Greater Victoria racing fans will know in two weeks whether or not there will be racing at Sandown this year.

Track operator Bill Randall today promised to say "yes" or "no" to the proposition by "about Aug. 15."

Mr. Randall said he will need two weeks to discuss arrangements with horsemen and track personnel.

The B.C. Racing Commission Saturday denied Mr. Randall's application to transfer Sandown dates to Exhibition Park. City and Sidney businessmen, sportsmen and breeders opposed the move.

Sandown is scheduled to run from Sept. 17 to Oct. 10.

Building Slump Continues Here

The construction slump continued last month in the three outlying municipalities, according to building permit figures released today.

Saanich-Oak Bay and Esquimalt all reported severely reduced construction totals, particularly dwelling construction. City figures were not available but they were expected to show the same pattern.

Saanich issued 66 building permits worth $361,050 last month, including 28 for houses worth $314,600. This compared with 101 permits worth $718,640 in July, 1959, including 50 houses worth $568,500.

EMBARRASSING

Fire Victims Insured But Didn't Know

When Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Crampton looked at the ruins of their Towner Road home, levelled by fire Friday afternoon, they thought it was a total loss with no insurance.

Instead, they learned Saturday afternoon they had $4,000 insurance on the house and $1,500 on the contents.

It happened this way. Some time ago, when Mr. Crampton was insuring a building used in connection with his tulip bulb business, his insurance agent suggested for a few dollars more the house could be covered by the same policy. Mr. Crampton was non-committal, but he found out late Saturday that his home had been covered.

Immediately he called Sidney and North Saanich Fire Chief G. A. Gardner, and the press, in view of reports that he was uninsured and that a fund was being raised to help him.

"He felt badly about being offered assistance when he didn't really need it," Mr. Gardner said, "but people are going ahead with the plan to help anyway."

William Plotnikoff is charged with being keeper of a common gaming house, the third of such charges laid last month by city police. Two alleged keepers and 14 found-ins were charged after an earlier raid on premises at 1628 Government and are awaiting trial.

17 'Not Guilty' Pleas Entered In Gaming Case

Seventeen men facing gaming charges in city police court after a raid on a downtown private club last Monday entered pleas of not guilty today.

An alleged keeper and 16 found-ins at the Sports Club, 654 Yates, were remanded to Thursday for trial.

They are represented by counsel Lloyd McKenzie, who entered the pleas on their behalf.

FLY-IN GUESTS FILL UP ON CRUMPETS

'Exec' Plane Steals Show

Poor weather in the Fraser Valley and south of Seattle halved the number of aircraft expected at Patricia Bay Airport Sunday for the first annual fly-in to this area, but 42 pilots managed to arrive for the fun.

It was sponsored by Victoria Flying Services, which converted its hangar into a "Barren's Victoria" modelled after the cartoons of Times artist Sid Barron.

Police in bobby helmets, hanging baskets, girls in dress of the 1890's, and men in plus fours and mufflers, helped with receiving guests and contributed to the consumption of 210 breakfasts and 600 crumpets.

Late breakfast Although the meal was scheduled as a breakfast, visitors were arriving both by air and ground up to 4.30 p.m.

Unexpected, unofficial, and impromptu star of the show was a Fairchild F-27 executive aircraft valued at more than $1,000,000, which had landed for fuel while on a trip to Williams Lake.

When invited to the fly-in the pilot brought the plane to the hangar and threw it open to inspection by the visitors.

Owned by Westinghouse Electric and powered by two Rolls-Royce Dart gas turbines, it has a gross weight of 36,500 pounds and cruises at 300 miles per hour.

Light and medium aircraft lined up beside Patricia Flying Services hangar Sunday for first annual fly-in at Patricia Bay Airport. Many visitors arrived by car, while those flying to breakfast were from Snohomish, Gulf and San Juan Islands, Vancouver, Nanaimo, and other up-island points. Port Angeles sent 12 for largest number any one point. (Times Photo)

OVER CONGO

Dag Rapped By Russians

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Moscow Radio accused United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld today of supporting aggression in the Congo. Sunday Moscow accused Belgium of further aggression.

The charge against Belgium brought a strong reply today from the United States which accused Russia of hindering UN efforts by threatening to take "decisive measures" against what Moscow called continuing aggression.

"The Soviet leaders' must be aware that this kind of public statement can only add to the problems of those who are seriously trying to restore peace and order in the Congo," a U.S. state department statement said.

While the state department was castigating Moscow, Russia was attacking Hammarskjöld.

'A Shield to Cover Aggression'

Moscow said the UN emergency force in the Congo is "playing the role of a shield to cover the military aggression" there.

The U.S. statement issued by state department spokesman Lincoln White said "the Soviet Union apparently arrogates to itself the right to judge whether the UN is acting with sufficient speed in the extremely difficult situation in the Congo."

Hammarskjöld himself was having difficulties on two fronts. An outbreak of tribal warfare threatened to involve UN troops while a new crisis was arising over secession-minded Katanga Province. The two moves forced him to postpone his departure for South Africa by 24 hours.

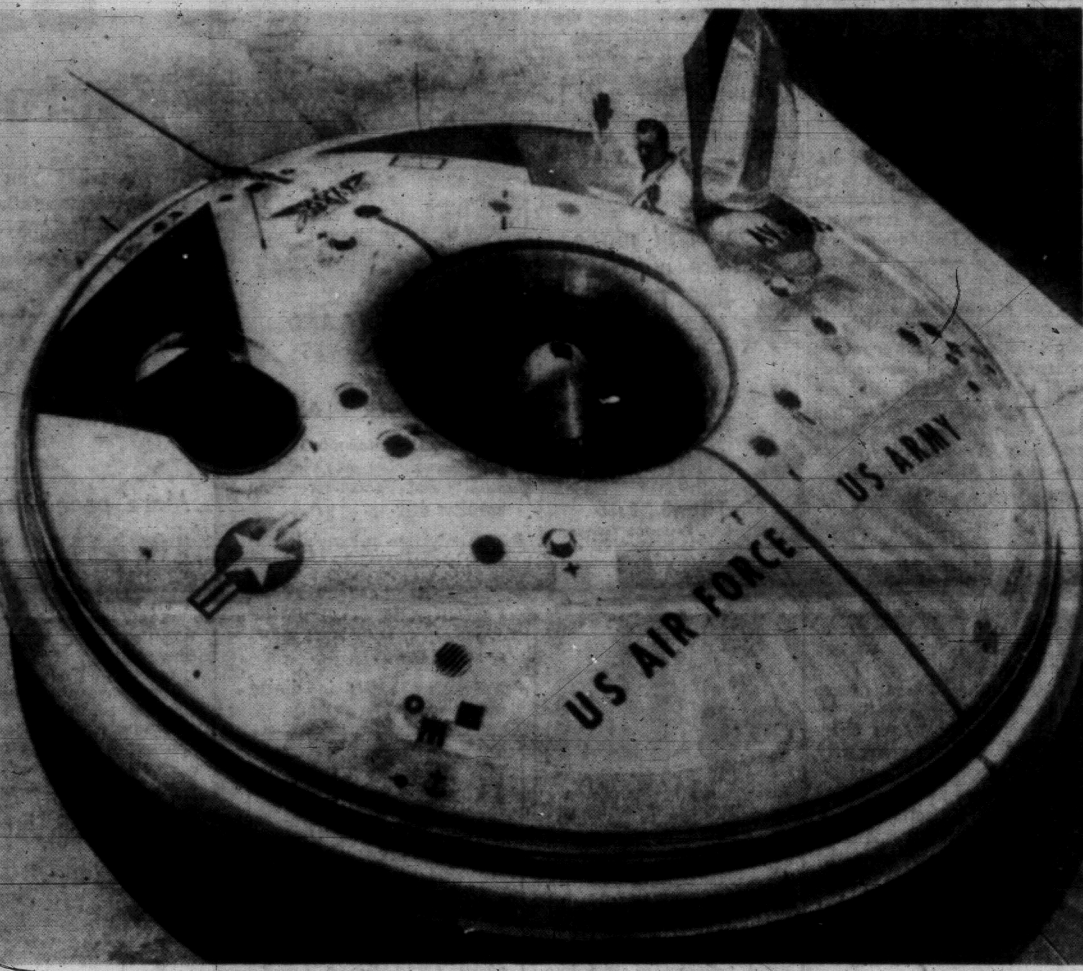

The new fighting was reported from Luluabourg where Lulua and Baluba tribes were said to have reopened an ancient feud with heavy casualties. Tunisian troops are in the area to restore order; Belgian paratroopers landed there last week to aid menaced Europeans.

Hammarskjöld sent his political adviser, Hendrik Wiershoff, to Brussels to ask Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny when the Belgians could withdraw their troops as demanded by the Security Council. So far Belgium has announced the withdrawal of only 1,500 of their 10,000 men.

Whether Hammarskjöld would send UN troops into the rebellious province was not known. Premier Moise Tshombe, who has used Belgian troops there to restore order, said he would fight UN forces.

The Congolese government was exerting increasing pressure on Hammarskjöld to remove the Belgian troops from all the Congo—including Katanga. A blowup was feared when Premier Patrice Lumumba returns to Leopoldville from trips to Washington and Ottawa.

The Katanga government sent emissaries to Belgium to plead for independence and was sending another delegation to the United Nations for the same reason.

CLOSE-UP OF THE 'SAUCER'

Car Driver Dies Trying New Record

BONNEYVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Speed driver Athol Graham was killed Monday when his 3,000-horsepower home-made racer flipped over at 300 miles an hour in an attempt to set a new world record.

Graham, 36, a Salt Lake City auto mechanic, died in hospital about two hours after his "City of Salt Lake" car crashed, pinning him in the cockpit.

Graham was trying to set a new world land speed record of 400 miles per hour. Mechanics said the left front wheel apparently broke off at the hub as the car approached 300 m.p.h.

The car landed on its top with Graham still in the cockpit. The car did not burn.

Graham was the first of four racers scheduled to try for a new land speed mark on the salt flats this month. The record of 394.196 m.p.h. was set here in 1947 by the late Sir John Cobb of England.

The others who will try for a new mark are Donald Thompson of London, Mickey Thompson of El Monte, Calif., and Dr. Nathan Ostich of Los Angeles.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Sales

VANCOUVER — Closing sales were very light: Imperial Mines 3,000 at 11 1/2 cents was the only one reported on the wire.

Lightning Touches Off New B.C. Forest Fires

KAMLOOPS (CP) — More than 20 major forest fires were still blazing today in British Columbia despite an overnight storm which proved only a mixed blessing.

Early reports from ranger stations in the southern interior of B.C. showed 23 new fires touched off by lightning during the night.

The storm did bring some relief, however, as it carried rain and cooler weather across some of the province's hot spots.

The rain contained a huge blaze at Lac Le Jeune, 30 miles south of here, long enough bulldozers to ram through a new fire break and give the summer resort a last-minute reprieve.

The 40-year-old Lac Le Jeune lodge was evacuated three days ago by 50 vacationing trout fishermen, after being given up for loss by its owners and foresters.

Two Banks Held Up

MONTREAL (CP) — Holdup men escaped with a total of $11,000 today from two banks in widely separated parts of the city.

CAMPERS, SMOKERS BLAMED

Careless smokers and illegal fire-builders today are blamed for 19 out of 21 new forest fires reported in the coastal mainland and Vancouver forest district over the weekend.

Although camp fires are prohibited through most of the district the public still is allowed access to recreation areas.

These may close if the situation deteriorates.

Six Island fires were doused Sunday, two at Langford, two at Campbell River and two at Nanaimo.

One at Nanaimo was caused by a railway spark. The others were all either cigarettes or camp fires.

There would have been more than six, said a forest service official, but for special patrols of fire-spotters in jeeps.

The camp fire ban covers the east side and all of the southern tip, he said. Fires are allowed only in the northwest area around Tofino and Ucluelet.

Advance Party Now Under Way

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has authorized dispatch of up to 500 Canadian soldiers to the Congo for United Nations duty, Prime Minister Diefenbaker informed the Commons today.

In addition, the Canadian government will provide eight aircraft for transport duties in the Congo—four North Stars already there and four Caribous to be obtained from de Havilland Aircraft Limited of Downsview, Ont.

The 500 Canadian soldiers will be signallers and supply personnel, the prime minister said in introducing a resolution asking parliamentary approval for sending a Canadian force to the Congo. The Commons gave unanimous approval after a three-hour debate.

An advance party of six officers left Montreal for the Congo Saturday and the main body is expected to begin leaving in about eight to 10 days.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

The prime minister disclosed that Premier Lumumba of the Congo on Saturday told him that he would like Canada to participate in an investment program for the Congo.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he told Mr. Lumumba that he didn't expect this hope would be attained because Canada itself needed capital.

The prime minister accused Russia of "continuance of a belligerent and blatant attitude" in recent weeks in regard to the Congo.

He said it was interesting to note that Mr. Lumumba had refused to meet the Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington but had met Russian Ambassador Amasov Aroutunian here Saturday.

In his hour-long conference with Mr. Diefenbaker Saturday, Mr. Lumumba said he hoped Canada would provide French-speaking technicians for the Congolese administration.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government will communicate with the universities, professional groups and the National Research Council to make known the needs of the Congo.

He said that unless order is re-established in the Congo events there might "expand."

He hailed formation of the UN Congo force as a "great step forward" toward establishment of an international force for peace. In all history there had never been a force like the one now being mobilized.

Two Caribou planes—an aircraft capable of taking off and landing on short distances—would be acquired now to lift supplies to Canadian forces within the Congo. A third Caribou would be acquired in September and a fourth in October.

The resolution won the immediate support of Opposition Leader Pearson who said Canadian forces will form the backbone of the UN operation because of the technical nature of their contribution.

STORM LEAVES DEVASTATION IN FORMOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Violent downpours in the wake of typhoon Shirley flooded Formosa today and confronted this island with the danger of a major disaster.

At least six persons were killed and 120 injured in the typhoon that struck Sunday.

The Taan River overflowed and marooned 30,000 inhabitants of the town of Wanli in northwest Formosa.

The storm killed two persons, destroyed 30 homes and caused heavy crop damage on the Ryukyu Island of Yonaguni south of Japan. It was headed today for the Communist Chinese mainland.

CONGO-BOUND

Two Work Point Barracks soldiers today are en route to strife-torn Congo, among five B.C. soldiers joining Canadian contingent now grouping at Barrie Ont. Cpls. K. H. Williams, (left) service corps, 755 Lampson, and G. A. Longpre, signal corps, 482-Peters, left here Sunday. Both have three children. Williams has been in army since 1948 and Longpre since 1951. Home towns are Vancouver and Joliette Quebec, respectively.

Secret Agency Men Vanish

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI is searching for two missing employees of the secret National Security Agency, the defence department disclosed today.

The two men, who had access to secret information, have been missing since they ostensibly departed together on a vacation June 24.

The department identified them as Bernon F. Mitchell, 31; Laurel, Md., and William H. Martin, 29.

Martin recently had returned to the security agency at Fort Meade, Md., from a year's study in advanced mathematics at the University of Illinois.

The defence department never has specified what the duties of the National Security Agency may be, simply saying that it "performs highly specialized technical and co-ordinating functions relating to the national security. It was established by President Truman in 1952.

The Pentagon said in answer to inquiries that it reported the two men missing over the past weekend, after its own search had been fruitless. Maryland police and the FBI were both alerted.

Mitchell and Martin, both mathematicians in the $8,000-a-year income bracket, served in the navy from 1951 to 1954. Both were employed by the security agency on the same day, July 8, 1957.

Neither is married.

ALTERNATIVE TO U.S. PLAN

Reds Ask UN Arms Summit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today what would amount to a summit conference on disarmament at the United Nations general assembly opening Sept. 20.

In a letter to the chairman of the 82-nation UN disarmament commission, the Soviet Union said it opposes a United States proposal for an early meeting of the commission, composed of all the UN's 82 members.

It declared that the assembly is the "only forum for taking up disarmament and added: "The Soviet government believes that personal participation of the heads of government of member states of the UN in the discussion of the disarmament problem at the general assembly would answer this purpose best of all."

In a letter to Mexican ambassador Luis Padilla Nervo, chairman of the commission, the Soviet Union charged that the "internal situation in the United States" prompted the U.S. move.

In a letter to commission members Friday, Padilla Nervo suggested that the commission be convened Aug. 15.

The general assembly meets Sept. 20, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev has already said he would press for a full discussion of disarmament then.

President Eisenhower announced last month that he would seek an early meeting of the UN disarmament commission following the Communist walkout from the 10-nation disarmament talks in Geneva.

'HONEST BROKER' ROLE NO MORE FOR CANADA

CALGARY (CP)—External Affairs Minister Howard Green said in an interview here that Canada is no longer trying to act as intermediary between the United States and Great Britain.

He said, "Canadians are no longer the honest brokers primarily interested in helping the British to understand the American and vice-versa. America and Britain are just about as close as two people could be."

Back to Fire Lines For Repaired Bomber

A damaged B-17 four-motored water bomber which made a wheels-up landing in Kamloops, then was flown here for repairs to wings, fuselage, and watertank doors, took off from Patricia Bay for the interior fire lines at 6 a.m. today.

The $5,000 repair job was done by Fairley Aviation Co. Kenneth Hibbert, acting manager, said six-man crews kept work on the plane going round the clock, and finished Sunday at midnight.

The plane arrived at the Victoria airport Friday. It was damaged while working on forest fires in the Kamloops area. Owner is an American firm.

Atom-Free Zone Asked By Peking

PEKING (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said tonight China would like to conclude a peace pact which would include the United States, setting up a zone free of nuclear weapons in Asia and the western Pacific.

Chou made his offer in an off-the-cuff speech at a Swiss embassy garden party. Diplomats considered his statement one of the mildest heard from a Chinese leader in years.

Chou said that "today there are in the world military blocs such as SEATO, which are hostile to China and are trying to encircle our country and pose a threat to it. But we stand for peaceful co-existence."

He said the peaceful co-existence and good relations between China and Switzerland were "a good example to all the world."

"We have proposed the conclusion of a peace pact for a non-nuclear zone in Asia and the western Pacific. This, of course, would include the United States," he declared.

Chou added that "some provocateurs have accused China of having given up its policy of seeking peaceful relations with countries with different social systems. These are slanders and not at all correct."

IMMIGRANT WORKMEN IN PROTEST

TORONTO (CP)—About 3,500 immigrant construction workers today attended a meeting which kicked off a strike which may tie up about $30,000,000 worth of housing and apartment construction in the city.

Only immigrant workers are involved in the strike so far. The strike was called for today when about 4,000 immigrant construction workers were scheduled to work despite a civic holiday in Ontario.

There are about 25,000 immigrant workers in the city.

A spokesman said the strike was called to back demands for a 40-hour week, pay increases and adequate safety precautions.

An official of the Metropolitan Toronto Home Builders Association Friday night predicted the walkout would be a flop because "there are too many unemployed non-union men ready to step in if they walk off."
